COOLIDGE EASILY COULD REPORT NAVY PARLEY, SAYS WILL

(Special To The News)
S. S. ILE DE FRANCE, Feb. 5.—Lindy's Lake kinder sobered up today and bunches of us began drawing a dividend on our passage money by being directed to where the dining saloon was for the very first time.
I see by a delayed American paper that Mr. Coolidge is going to print the history of the United States on a single rock. Well, I could print the history of the present results of this disarmament conference on the head of a pin and have room enough left for the chorus of "Yes, we have no bananas."
See you in person Thursday.
Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Pa New is certainly glad to hear that C. M. Yohe, vice president of the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad Company is in the city today, conferring with city officials relative to a new passenger station for this city. Plans were made years ago, but for some reason construction was deferred. There is no question but that a new station is badly needed, and Pa New is gratified to learn that the railroad company is sincerely turning attention to the project once more. We welcome your visit Mr. Yohe, and certainly are pleased to know that the company is looking with favor on the erection of a new station here, a thing badly needed.

Hillsville will be agog tomorrow night, the occasion being the customary dinner-speecher of the Lawrence county baseball league. It is expected that base runners and their ardent followers will congregate in large numbers for the evening. The new Hillsville high school will be pressed in to service for the festivities.

D. M. Royal assistant trainmaster of the local division is busier than a swarm of bees this week lining up recruits for the Pennsylvania railroad's annual transportation banquet in Pittsburgh. This year's fete falls on Saturday, and it is learned that a large delegation will attend from here. Hon. James Francis Burke of Pittsburgh, will be one of the speakers.

Doctors claim it's ideal pneumonia weather. Better watch! The spring-like atmosphere is quite tempting, but you'd better keep wearing your overcoat a while longer, at least.

Melting snows reveal, according to residents of Lincoln avenue near the senior high school, that students attending school there have thrown a lot of refuse on lawns in the vicinity of the school. The complaint has frequently been made of this practice. Pa New is informed that refuse baskets have been placed in the vicinity of the school but that students apparently are not very careful about making use of them.

Pa New will be gratified when the Pennsylvania Power Company contract for maintenance of the curb lighting system is in effect. Stronger lights will be placed in the Washington street system, we understand, and this will help the situation a lot. The change cannot be made too soon.

The next big date on the calendar is Valentine day, February 14. No. Pa New doesn't expect to receive any valentines this year.

Announcement that the B. & O. improvements have been completed at New Castle Junction is another piece of gratifying news to Pa New. The B. & O. is continuously expanding the equipment and operations at New Castle Junction this being one of the biggest railroad centres in the country at the present time.

Daily Weather Report

Weather statistics for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning are as follows:
Maximum temperature, 48.
Minimum temperature, 26.
Precipitation, .01 inches.
River stage, 6.4 feet and rising.

Find Butterfly In Seventh Ward Home

Whether the finding of a butterfly during the month of February is a sign of warm weather, we do not know, nor does the finder seem to know.
Monday evening George Hettenbaugh of W. Madison avenue caught a butterfly, flying about in the kitchen of his home. The butterfly was brought into The News office and it is a beautiful specimen, being black with spots of blue, yellow and orange on its wings.

Where the butterfly came from Mr. Hettenbaugh does not know. It may of flew in from out doors, but we know the butterfly would have succumbed to cold weather if it had been outside more than a very short time.
It is probable that the butterfly has hatched out of a cocoon in some warm out of the way place.

Mrs. Lucy Morrison Prepares To Observe Her 102nd Birthday

Along with the Fourth of July, Labor Day and the rest of the holidays the little village of Princeton has one more day which calls for observance, and this day is February 8. Outside the confines of the village its just another day, perhaps, but in Princeton it is the birthday of Mrs. Lucy Morrison, Princeton's "first citizen" and on Saturday, February 8, 1930, she celebrates her 102nd birthday.
While it may be true that some of the girls are loath to disclose their ages, Mrs. Morrison makes no attempt to hide the fact that she has seen more than a century of years roll by, that she counts her time back to the days of Madison and Monroe, to the days when electric lights, radios, automobiles and the rest of the modern conveniences were not even thought of.

"We Must Be Patient" Says Rockefeller In Business Interview

Famous Philanthropist and Oil Magnate Says Business Will Improve.

"Never Felt Better In My Life," Says Rockefeller; Still Plays Golf At 91.

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Feb. 5.—John D. Rockefeller, Sr., today granted this correspondent two brief but interesting interviews, one at the golf links, the other at his home. In one he discussed his health which he said is "fine," and his golf which he "pretty good." In the other interview he cautiously touched on business.
"I never felt better," declared the world famous philanthropist, and founder of the Standard Oil Company in speaking of his health. And he assuredly seemed alert and active for a man who will be ninety-two years old on July 8 next.

Concerning business conditions Mr. Rockefeller said:
"We have to be patient. We have got to cut expenses down. Business will continue to improve but we must be patient."

It was the first and only time Mr. Rockefeller has said a word on business since the epochal statement he issued late last fall when prices were crashing downward on the New York Stock Exchange and chaos reigned in Wall Street. From the seclusion of his estate at Pocantico Hills, N. Y., he formally announced at that time that he and his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., were "buying stocks" and that they had the utmost confidence in the basic structure of American business. Mr. Rockefeller still is optimistic on business. He indicated that plainly enough in this, one of his exceedingly rare interviews. He did not want to touch on business at all because "they"—meaning no doubt the Standard Oil officials in New York—would not like it. After he had expressed his opinion on business he caught himself up and remarked:

House Ready To Start Action On Transfer Bill

Indication Points To House Acting On Transfer Bill Passage By Friday.

LIMITED DEBATE HAS BEEN ALLOWED

Wet and Dry Armies Badly Split Up; Senate To Start Hearings In Few Days.

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The proposed transfer of the prohibition bureau, along with partial control over industrial alcohol permits, to the department of justice agitated the wet and dry camps on Capitol Hill today with the house ready to act on the measure tomorrow.
The big battle on the floor of the house will revolve around the bill's provision, dividing control of industrial alcohol between the treasury and the justice departments. This division of authority has aroused serious opposition from "big business," including automobile manufacturers, chemical concerns and the perfume and cosmetic trade. These legitimate users have insisted that control be lodged exclusively in the treasury.

Armies Are Split.

The wet and dry armies were split on the issue. Some leaders from both camps would lodge sole control in the justice department, believing the maneuver would tend to halt all diversions of industrial alcohol into bootleg channels, other dries, and a few wets, will favor the plan now written into the bill, which would give Attorney General Mitchell equal power with Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in drafting regulations for the alcohol industry.
In the senate, hearings will be started within a few days on the same bill. Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich., chairman of a senate judiciary subcommittee, to which the bill was referred, announced he would not wait house action. Vandenberg undoubtedly will follow the administration's desires in framing the legislation.

The fight of congressional wets to halt the government's practice of using wood alcohol in denaturing industrial alcohol meanwhile suffered a setback when Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran warmly defended the practice. Doran said wood alcohol was less dangerous than ethyl alcohol but more effective as a denaturant.

To Vote On Bill.

Under present plans, the transfer will be considered by the house tomorrow with debate limited to four hours. There may be some delay in taking up the bill but dry leaders were (Continued On Page Twelve)

Two Found Dead In West Virginia

Believe Garage Owner Shot It Out With Bandit; Find Both Dead

(International News Service)
CUMBERLAND, Md., Feb. 5.—A grim duel between a supposed bandit and a garage owner today had ended in the death of both.
A. Walton Borro, 40, proprietor of a garage at Ridgeley, W. Va., just across the state line, his body pierced with bullets, was found dead in his place of business today. Nearby was the body of a man unofficially identified as Carl Shool, 30, of Hampshire, W. Va.

The two had "shot it out," it is believed, though no one heard the battle. Edgar Borro, a brother of Walton, found the bodies when he went to the garage today.

Illness Exaggerated, Taft's Nurse Asserts

Miss Gertrude Manifold, Personal Trained Nurse To Taft Grants Interview

Perturbed At Way Public Down In North Carolina Stared At Ex-President.

By ALFRED T. NEWBERRY
International News Service Staff

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Probably the person most affected over the sudden change in the condition of William Howard Taft beyond the family and intimate friends is Miss Gertrude Manifold, this city.

She first came in contact with the family last June. Since then she has been Taft's constant companion in her capacity as his personal trained nurse. She has been with him, talking with him and looking after his wants along with Mrs. Taft when Taft's most intimate friends were denied admittance to his sickroom.

She cited the noted statesman's routine during his ten-day stay in Asheville, N. C., in an exclusive interview with the writer today. She accompanied him to the resort and administered to his wants during the train ride from the resort Monday which so fatigued Taft. She said he is a very ill man.

Illness Exaggerated

"I believe the newspaper descriptions of Mr. Taft's weakness upon his arrival in Washington were somewhat exaggerated," she said. "Mr. Taft was very anxious to get extra exercise against the doctor's orders and he insisted upon walking up and down his car during the ride from Asheville. That's what tired him out so and caused the weakness the newspapers noted."

Taft was virtually carried bodily from the train to his luncheon.

She said Taft followed a rigid routine at the Asheville resort. "He slept late, ate breakfast and took a motor ride," Miss Manifold continued, "and then returned to the hotel and read. He read the newspapers and various books. His reading matter was varied. Then we would take a walk for his exercise and then go for an automobile drive. He always tried to take two rides a day. He retired very early."

P. & L. E. OFFICIAL HERE; DISCUSSES NEW STATION WITH OFFICIALS OF CITY

Company Is Willing To Proceed With Station, Says Yohe.

Mayor Gillespie Is Optimistic After Conference At Noon.

C. M. Yohe, vice president of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad today told Mayor William H. Gillespie and councilmen during a conference at city hall that the company is favorable toward the erection of a new railroad station here.

The meeting between the railroad executive and the city officials was held shortly before noon at city hall. Vice President Yohe was brought to New Castle by Patrick J. Flaherty, president of the Johnson Bronze company, who is an old acquaintance of Mr. Yohe.

Brings Plans Along.
The vice president brought with him plans prepared by architects years ago and during the conference Mayor Gillespie and the councilmen assured the railroad official that he would be given the fullest cooperation by the city toward the station desired here.

The P. & L. E. has turned over leases to the Erie railroad. It is understood and as Mr. Yohe expressed a warm feeling for New Castle and a desire to do whatever is possible, he said he would confer with Erie railroad executives and see what could be done for New Castle.

Vest Side Site.

The city officials desire the station located at West Washington and Shenango streets and it is understood that the plans mapped up for the railroad company's station, proposed years ago, center there. One thing was made certain to Mr. Yohe and that was the city's full cooperation.

Mayor Optimistic.

The conference was brought about through several influences. Councilman Louis Genkinger some time ago broached the plan to the mayor and a letter was sent to the railroad vice president. Today Mr. Flaherty brought the executive to the city and he was present during the conference.
Mayor Gillespie was decidedly optimistic following the conference and said the situation relative to the new station looks better than ever. The mayor and his colleagues took especial pains to inform the visitor of this city's desire to cooperate in anything looking forward to the station.
The conference did not last long and was held in the mayor's office.

No Agreement On Battleships

Naval Parley Delegates Are Grappling With Ship Problem

AUXILIARY TONNAGE MUST BE DETERMINED

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff

LONDON, Feb. 5.—While no definite agreement has been reached, Great Britain, the United States and Japan are grappling with the battleship problem and are considering as a basis of discussion detailed suggestions put forward by the American delegates to the naval arms conference, it was learned today.

Both the British and American delegations are emphatic in declaring that no agreement has been concluded, and that none is likely to be until the question of auxiliary tonnage has been cleared away. But contrary to expectations, battleships have suddenly come to the forefront of the conference, with the three big naval powers discussing continuation of the Washington battleship building holiday until 1936 at least, with great interest.

Suggestions Made.

It is learned on good authority that the Americans have made the following suggestions to the Japanese on the subject of battleships:

1.—Extension of the lives of present capital ships from 20 to 25 years, which would mean an effective building holiday until 1936.
2.—Scrapping of three battleships by the United States, five by Great Britain and one by Japan in the near future, bringing the battleship fleets of the three powers to a 13-15-9 level.
3.—Eventual replacements on the basis of the present tonnage of 35,000 (Continued On Page Two)

Engineers Of Tin Plate Company Are Inspecting Plants

Will Hold Meeting This Afternoon To Discuss Conditions At Plants

Engineers of the various plants of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company, who arrived here last evening, after inspecting the Mercer and Farrell works in Farrell, are making an inspection tour through the Shenango Works and New Castle works here today.

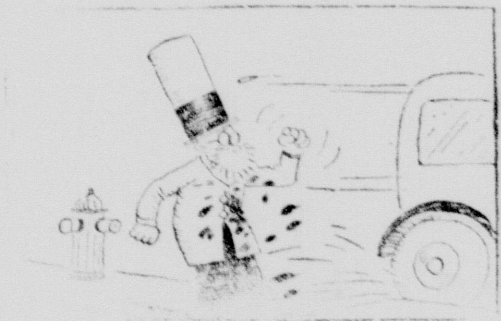

They were guests of D. S. Pyle, general manager of the Shenango works at dinner in The Castleton last night and spent the night at the hotel.

Both tin plate plants were then visited this morning, after which a meeting is scheduled this afternoon to discuss conditions in the plants here and to suggest improvements in the interests of efficiency.

They will leave New Castle this evening.

Mrs. Catherine Merriman of Long avenue has returned home after a visit with her daughter in McKeesport.

And others lead out to the seven seas, to the land where there's never snow, to rago rago, and unauistan, where always I've longed to go. But the urge of work keeps me chained right here, but I dream of the far away, and some day I'll go to those sunny lands, it's thirty-seven today.

Local Auto Club Members To Hear Fine Addresses

Head Of Pennsylvania Motor Federation One Of Principal Speakers

BUFFET LUNCH TO FOLLOW MEETING

Two fine addresses, both of the utmost interest to motorists, will be delivered at the annual meeting of the New Castle Auto Club in the Castleton Friday evening.

S. Edward Gable, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, the state branch of the American Automobile Association and governing body of the 97 automobile clubs in Pennsylvania, will be the principal speaker of the evening.

Mr. Gable, who is a retired school superintendent, has been interested in automobile club activities for 25 years. He is widely conversant with the needs of the motorists in Pennsylvania, and in addition is a speaker of more than ordinary merit.

Problems now confronting motorists of the state and legislative action which is proposed to remedy present evils will be discussed along with a general survey of conditions in Pennsylvania.

Capt. P. J. Dorr, deputy superintendent of the Pennsylvania State Highway patrol system, will be the other speaker of the evening.

Ralph Bollsinger, president of the New Castle Auto Club, will preside, and at the conclusion of the meeting a buffet lunch will be served.

The meeting is for the real purpose of electing a new board of governors for the ensuing year and in the evening after this body has been chosen by the members, the board will meet for reorganization.

Powers Speaks To Wolves' Meeting

Meeting in the Elks home on North Mill street Tuesday evening, the Wolves, recently formed civic organization, had for the speaker of the evening District Attorney John S. Powers. Mr. Powers spoke on "The Home, the Church and the State." The next meeting of the Wolves will be ladies night. Some weeks ago ladies night was held with the idea that it would be an annual affair. It was so successful that the wives of the members have insisted upon another such occasion and their request has been granted.

The program of the ladies night meeting will be Feb. 18.

Gets News Of Death Of Former Resident

Mrs. J. A. Bolinger of Temple avenue has just received word of the death of a cousin, Mrs. Jacob Haytaker of Kersey, Pa., at one time, many years ago, a resident of this city. She is well known here, having visited in the city frequently.

She was 74 years of age and leaves her husband, seven children, 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. She was a member of the German Lutheran church of Kersey and was active in all its various activities. The funeral services will be held on Thursday and Mr. and Mrs. Bolinger will be unable to attend on account of illness.

NO RURAL MAIL BUGGIES HERE

Autos Have Supplanted All Of Once Familiar Mail Wagons

"Gone are the days when the official U. S. Mail wagons convey rural carriers over their routes."

Postmaster Edwin W. Crawford gave that impression, at least, when he declared that no more buggies of the official type remain in Lawrence county. When roads become impassable the men are forced to use their own if they have one, or borrow from a friend, if not.

Roads which make up the nine country routes out of the local office are not in such a bad shape at present, according to Mr. Crawford. Not until this year have they been unsettled enough as to cause the postmen to abandon their machines.

The roads over which the Route 2 carrier pass are reported to be about the best kept of all, while the route out of Mahoningtown and the one serving Coaltown often threaten to give trouble.

"How our men get through with their cars sometimes is almost hard to figure out," the postmaster said. "But they do."

Charles McCandless, who drives Route 6, was the last one who had occasion to use a horse and buggy, and that was sometime last fall.

River Boosters Are Back From Big Conference

Position of Canal and Slack-water Boosters Is Laid Before Army Engineers.

COCHRAN BOOSTS THE FRENCH CREEK ROUTE

Alfred W. Chilton, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce and E. W. Beadel returned home late last night from Washington, where they, with other officials of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango Rivers association presented the matter of improving the local streams for transportation.

Three separate groups were in attendance at the meeting. A large delegation from Pittsburgh, representing the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, strongly urged the construction of a canal to the Great Lakes, but made no specific recommendations as to what route should be chosen.

L. A. Manchester, general counsel of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., representing the Beaver, Mahoning, and Shenango Valley Rivers association, spoke in favor of the slack-watering of these rivers as necessary to the life of industry in the Pittsburgh and Youngstown districts, and that territory lying between.

He stated that the matter was not a district affair, and that there were no differences in the Ruhr valley of America.

"The steel industry is facing a crisis," Mr. Manchester said. Either it will receive the benefits of water transportation to compete with centers having those advantages or just as surely will this business center move on elsewhere.

"Calls Canal Only Hope." "The district is the third largest in production of steel of any in the country. It affects the welfare of three-quarters of a million people."

"The high cost of transportation and high cost of assembling materials has been a difficult barrier. The way to revive the steel industry is to give it full advantage of the waterways."

Manchester alluded to the Federal railway effort to obtain cheaper rates. "We are no farther along than we were 12 years ago," he said. "The Lisbon road would give some relief but we always would be confronted with the difference between rail and water transportation is the only thing that can meet our needs fully."

"There is available for shipment on the canal, based on 1929 performance, 6,000,000 tons of coke and coal, 3,000,000 tons of steam and similar coal, 4,000,000 tons of limestone, 200,000 tons of steel, and 400,000 tons of plant material."

"It is up to the board to say whether the cost of the canal is justified. I have been told the lower end of the canal would cost no more than a bathe. At any rate no similar expenditure would make available a like tonnage anywhere in the country."

Legislators present at the meeting were Congressmen Swick, Campbell, Sullivan, Estep, Cochran, McFadden, Strong, Porter, Wyant, and Kelly of Pennsylvania; Cooper and Bolton, of Ohio; and representatives of Ohio, David A. Reed and Joseph R. Grundy.

Congressman Thomas Cochran, representative of Northwestern counties bordering the Allegheny river and French Creek, championed the cause of a canal through that district, and was supported by Congressman Nathan L. Strong of Armstrong county.

Engineers Working On State Program

each, but with limitation of guns from 16 to 14 inches.

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, leader of the American delegation, has stressed during the course of the negotiations the fact that the United States is not desirous of forcing the Japanese into any agreement distasteful to them.

If, however, Japan would be satisfied with continuation of the present 5-5-3 ratio with America and Britain, it is regarded likely that the American suggestions, which involve the scrapping of only one Japanese battleship, may result in a satisfactory agreement.

The conference which resulted in discussion of this battleship proposal, however, was not confined to capital ships alone. Cruisers and submarines also were discussed, the Americans indicating their willingness to concede Japan a 6.5 ratio in eight-inch gun cruisers instead of the 70 per cent ratio which Japan originally asked.

The Japanese made it clear they are not anxious to accept a maximum tonnage for submarines as low as 1,500 tons, as her present undersea fleet contains a number of 2,000-ton submarines.

Thos. N. R. Miami, Fla., Yes, when Julius Caesar established his calendar he adopted 365 1/4 days for a year, with a leap-year every four years. The first day of the year was changed from March 25 to January 1. Pope Gregory further corrected the Julian calendar by dropping 10 days, and to keep the equinox from being displaced further, he ordered that such century years as are divisible by 400 should be regarded as leap-years. The Gregorian calendar was at once adopted by Catholic countries (1582). But the Greek church and Protestant nations refused. England came over in 1751; Russia in 1918.

Some Men Keep Hats At Cleaners

Although it may appear a strange custom to some, there are several men who keep a hat permanently at a hat cleaning establishment.

This became known today when a reporter called for his "lid" which needed a much thorough cleaning. "Leave your other hat here," said the proprietor.

"Why?" he was asked. "That is getting to be the custom now. Some of the lawyers and city officials do that and always have a clean hat," he replied, which apparently isn't a bad idea on his part to keep business good.

ate his meals in the hotel's public dining room and frowned upon the suggestion his meals be brought to his suite. She did not eat at his table, believing his wife should be his only table companion. During their sojourn at Asheville his daughter, who is president of Bryn Mawr College and her husband visited him. They were their only visitors, she said.

Miss Manifold deplored the actions of their other guests at the resort. Everywhere Taft or his wife appeared the vacationists crowded about them.

"It was a shame the way the people down there stared at us but fortunately our stay was not during the peak season and the hotel was not crowded," she continued. "The hotel authorities kept out all outsiders who wanted to see Mr. Taft, however."

Miss Manifold is strikingly attractive and about 25. She was exceptionally clear skin, long light brown hair and wears smart, modest dresses. She is not the flapper type.

"I am certainly sorry Mr. Taft has become seriously ill and I know everyone in the country joins in hoping for his quick recovery," she added. "He has a jovial disposition and a smile for everyone."

Salvation Army Gathers Paper

Also Such Old Clothing, Furniture And Other Articles As People May Have

The work of the Salvation Army, here, as elsewhere, is not alone a religious effort, but includes all kinds of social service efforts and great amount of relief work, which means much to scores of poor people of this community.

Aiding the local corps of which Ensign V. Thomas is the officer in charge, are two trucks, which gather up paper, magazines, old clothing and old furniture.

Clothing given to the truck driver and fit for use, also old furniture, stoves, etc., are turned over to the local officer for distribution among the needy of the city and the rest is that many a needy person of the city is being outfitted and cared for through this medium.

Waste paper secured here is not stored here because the Salvation Army has no good place for the storage of the same in this city. The money realized is used to further the work among the poor people.

It is said that the Salvation Army by its nation wide collection of old paper and clothing is really performing a work of real merit for the country and the people in general.

This is because of the fact that the old clothing and waste paper collected and made into paper, save hundreds of acres of woodland every year, which would otherwise have to be cut down in order to meet the demand for paper, which is partially supplied by the use of the old clothing and old papers, which make the finest kind of papers of various kinds.

To Set Time For Officer's Hearing

Chief of Police C. C. Horner announced today that Officer Thomas Llewellyn had been suspended for a period of ten days as a result of a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer that had been made against him.

The charge is said to have grown out of the complaint of a woman.

He will be given a hearing on the charge at a time to be set later.

Treser's Men Give Windows Real Bath

Councilman Stanley Treser believes in cleanliness. He has had a force of men from the department of streets scrub some of the grime from the windows in the East street building, which formerly was used to house the central department fire apparatus. It is now possible to comb one's hair by gazing through the window.

"MUST BE PATIENT," SAYS ROCKEFELLER IN BUSINESS INTERVIEW

"You better not use that." But, urged to allow it to go into print, he capitulated.

Is Always Punctual.

He was edging toward the first tee to play his daily eight holes of golf over the Ormond Beach links at the time. He was scheduled to tee off at precisely 10:15 and John D. or "Neighbor John" as the folks down here call him is the personification of punctuality.

The Rockefeller limousine had pulled up before the palm-shaded entrance to the golf course a few minutes before. In the car were those who were to make up the foursome—Mr. Rockefeller, John P. White, of Cleveland, his pretty daughter, Betty White, and Major Max Oser, who is the husband of Mrs. Mathilda McCormick Oser, Mr. Rockefeller's granddaughter.

"Good morning," said Mr. Rockefeller genially to a handful of tourists who were there to catch a glimpse of the famous Rockefeller family and given away more money than any other man in the world.

Slightly stooped of shoulders yet surprisingly active, he walked toward the group of tourists. He asked a little boy in a Buster Brown suit what his name was. It was "Art."

"Is Art a good boy?" he asked the young woman who had the lad in charge. He was. So "neighbor John" dug down in the long pants he wears even when playing golf and produced a brand new dime which he gave to the boy. Then Mr. Rockefeller turned to the other visitors, including Mr. and Mrs. Albert Gergel of Dubuque, Iowa, and E. Wesselhoff, a business man of Peoria, Illinois, thanking them for coming to see him.

Soon he was on the first tee, addressing the ball. He did not look his ninety years as he stood there, peering down the fairway. His small blue eyes were alert, interested. He wore a gray pinch-back coat, long trousers and a gray cap pulled down over his yellow-rimmed glasses. The sun shined on his silver hair as he stood in his swing his club seemed to quiver. Then he brought it down and through the ball, sending it whizzing straight as an arrow down the fairway for 160 yards. There was a smattering of applause from the brightly garbed gallery. And then he made more noise by the famous philanthropist trudged down the fairway accompanied by his golfing companions and four colored caddies.

I was at the Rockefeller estate when Mr. Rockefeller's limousine returned from the links and pulled up to the driveway, coming to a stop before the mansion, a low, rambling two-story mansion overlooking the palm-lined Halifax river. His secretary, Nestor W. Davis, apprised Mr. Rockefeller of the presence of the International News Service correspondent. Graciously enough, the old gentleman said: "Let him to come in."

Mr. Rockefeller had just emerged from the car, wearing a black top coat. He required no assistance, although he had been batting a golf ball around for nearly two hours. He extended his hand. His grip seemed fairly strong.

REPORT TAFT IS IMPROVED

The condition encouraged the family and his multitude of friends.

The president's face brightened when he read the report sent him by the physician. The report included a personal message to him. It was sent by Mrs. Taft.

She wrote her husband was "feeling much better and was sitting up" and said the president could see him this afternoon. Previously Mr. and Mrs. Hoover had expressed a desire to see Taft the moment his physicians believed he could see visitors.

The Hoovers will motor out to the Taft home at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Today's report of the doctors was eagerly awaited by official Washington. The entire populace became alarmed when he returned here Monday from a sojourn in Asheville, N. C., in such a weakened condition but the doctors' bulletin was not forthcoming as early as was expected.

Dr. Hanger explained they were delayed in making their report because

Mrs. Charles Douglass, of Rose avenue, was a pleasing hostess to the M. P. H. club members in her home on Tuesday when they gathered for their regular meeting. The hours were passed in a delightful manner with 50¢ two tables being in play.

At a chosen hour, a delicious lunch was served by the hostess, being assisted by her daughter Marie. Valentine suggestions were used in the appointments, which was also carried out in the menu.

February 18 marks the next meeting, which will be at the home of Mrs. E. L. Culbertson on North Liberty street.

Entertains Mission Society.

The Jean Hill Williamson society of the Highland United Presbyterian church was entertained by Helen Burry, Monday evening in her home on Laurel avenue, with Elizabeth Long and Betty Ballentine as associate hostesses.

Mrs. J. M. Darbaker was in charge of the devotionals and slides with a lecture, "In The Shadow Of The Pyramids" was presented by Bertha Dadds. This was an interesting and instructive discourse on Egypt.

During the social hour which followed the program, the hostesses served dainty refreshments. The next meeting will be March 3.

Club Entertains Husbands.

The fourth anniversary of the Victorian club was fittingly observed on Tuesday evening when the members had their husbands as special guests at the home of Mrs. R. W. Roberts, Ray street.

Five hundred and radio music featured the evening with a dainty lunch being served after play by the hostess and her daughters, Edna and Carrie Jane. The table was lovely with its little cupid, valentines and other suggestions of the season.

February 18 the club will meet with Mrs. C. A. Propst, Bell avenue.

WEALTH AND ENVY

PEOPLE who wish to be loved by their fellow men should never acquire great wealth, for there appears to be no surer method of attracting the enmity of society than by exceeding others in amassing money and property.

It is not that the masses do not covet wealth, but this reaction to the Croesus is a natural product of the human trait of envy and of centuries of persecution and exploitation of the poor by avaricious and cruel tyrants.

There have been many rich men who justly deserved the hatred of all mankind, but their infamies and man's own envy should not cause society to distrust and condemn the living rich who can not be charged with injustices and who have given much to their fellow men. And yet there are millions of men and women, supposedly intelligent and fair, who condemn all rich.

The common people are spontaneous and unstinting in their praise of those who serve well in public office, of those who advance the science of medicine, of the inventor, the teacher, the explorer and others. When will man give the full measure of honor and gratitude to the rich men who are today endowing educational institutions, maintaining research work, making public gifts of priceless works of art or of whole libraries, museums and art galleries?

There is such a thing as honest wealth, just as there is much dishonest poverty. Millionaires are not compelled to give up fortunes, but philanthropy and generosity seem to be traits no less human than envy.

THE WORKINGMAN AND THE TARIFF

During the course of the so-called lobby probe one of the members of the committee intimated that American labor was not particularly interested in the pending tariff revision.

A prompt answer to this comes in the form of a letter to congress reiterating the demand for workingmen generally for adequate protection for American labor against low-priced foreign labor competition. The letter, which is signed by Matthew W. Woll as president of the American Wage Earners' Protective Conference, has adopted as its slogan "Buy American-made Goods," and says that workingmen in this country view with appreciation the failure of the senate to provide ample and full protection to our own workers.

The invasion of the home market by foreign commodities made under the intolerable conditions of employment is regarded with alarm. Mr. Woll adds: "With the ever-increasing number of the unemployed we know from bitter experience—the plight of American wage-earners will become frightful if the efforts to tear down the protective wall of American industry and labor is permitted to find sanction and approval by our American congress. We question what good it will do to restrict immigration of foreign workers if, at the same time, the doors are thrown open to the free importations of commodities produced abroad."

This is a timely protest, even though it may arouse the sneers of the theorists who continue to insist, in spite of the facts, that the protective policy of the Republican party has had nothing to do with the prosperity of the United States asserts the Inquirer of Philadelphia. But there are gray-haired workingmen who know better. They know that failure to keep the tariff wall at the proper height has had disastrous effects in the past upon those who work for a living. In the last campaign the Democrats made a thin pretense of being in favor of "the right kind of tariff." That, needless to say, has always fallen below Republican standards. What confronts us now is a condition and not a theory. But people have poor memories, and many of them have forgotten the sad results of inadequate protection to American industry.

A FEBRUARY GARDEN

February is an especially satisfying period for the amateur gardener. It is the season when he begins to plan for the next summer's plot in the backyard. A half dozen catalogs, a comfortable chair, a warm room and a credulous imagination constitute the equipment needed for growing a splendid garden in winter.

The results of one's efforts are much more nearly perfect now than will be possible next summer. One needs merely to look at the vegetables, fruits and flowers portrayed in the catalogs and let fancy have free play. The advantages now over endeavors later lies in that one does not have to spade refractory soil, does not have to contend with frosts' effect on tender plants; there are no blights on gardens in imagination, floods do not drown or dry weather wither, bugs do not consume nor do the forays of neighbors' chickens exasperate. It is the only perfect season for a garden.

Only at this season can one hope to reach the perfection in products which the catalogs portray. One's hopes steadily vanish as one progresses from the anticipation to the realization, therefore let anticipation have free play now. Realization will be enough of a disappointment at best. "Aim high" is an old maxim. Surely the seed catalog designers do not offend in not placing the goal high enough. Their standard often outlives the lofty.

As spring comes and one takes up the practical phases of the problem of a garden the prospect will appear less promising. It is easier to plan hard labor than to perform it. There is no excellence without great labor, the old-time copybooks told us, and that is the reason February, or thereabout, is the best time for growing a garden. It doesn't require much labor. Next summer it will be different. Do it now.

CARL BEN EIELSON

Carl Ben Eielson was a son of the north. One may judge that from his name. The article here was bred in him. So it came about that after the war had fashioned him into an aviator and he had become a skilled pilot the icy latitudes called to him, and much of his flying was done over those frontiers inhabited only by Eskimos, trappers, fur traders, miners and fishermen. He was the first to test the practicability of landing with skis instead of wheels. He had made the polar trip with Wilkinson and had finally chosen the rugged, stormy Alaskan country in which to carry on the work that wings only can carry on.

It is almost certain he has flown his last adventurous trip. Missing since early last November his plane has finally been located on an island near the coast of Siberia, completely wrecked and buried in the snow. The presumption is that his body and that of his mechanic, Earl Borland, are either underneath one of the surrounding drifts or buried under a pile of gasoline tanks in the cockpit.

At its best aviation is still thrillingly adventurous. Eielson chose its most difficult and dangerous side. In the history of flying he will be accounted a pioneer.

If ancestors know what pride they inspire, there must be a lot of astonishment on the other side.

About the easiest way to teach a boy how the machinery of law works is to give him a large allowance.

Very Rich, Very Happy, Perhaps.
But, Beware The Idle.
Why Shaw Eats Cake.
Questions For Pump Oajere.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE (Copyright, 1930, King Features Synd., Inc.)

HODGE, Cal., Feb. 5.—The rich in this happy land—VERY happy for some—are richer than they ever were. The Treasury Department tells you there were 496 Americans in 1928 with annual incomes above one million dollars. The total on which they paid income tax was one thousand seventy-three millions.

And, as you know, this represents only a fraction of the really big incomes. There are men with incomes above one hundred millions each. Their money is in great corporations. The latter reinvest their earnings and hand stock dividends instead of cash to the big controlling stockholders. On such dividends, in accordance with Supreme Court decision, the really rich man pay no income tax.

One man, with much more than a hundred millions income, paid, as shown in reports once published, only six millions income tax. Without the stock dividend device he would have paid forty millions, at least. A lot of salary earners and professional men made up the difference.

Of the supermillionaires, 24 have more than ten millions a year each. With all that money you would expect to hear of some remarkably and interesting things done but money and imagination do not often go together. Imagination prevents accumulation.

According to Treasury figures, we have now about 45,000 millionaires among us. Unfortunately we have, for every millionaire, about 100 men out of work, earning nothing. The supermillionaire class should do some serious thinking about the unemployed.

Five millions idle and unhappy, among 120,000,000, can be "handled" easily, but beware of the second idle five millions. The first five million idle are, with due respect for some unfortunate, the least able.

Or they are older men, excluded from work by our old-blooded industrial system. They are not the rebellious hard hitters. Five millions more of the idle would mean danger, and a third five million would mean disaster.

In Britain they give a "dole"—enough cash from the public purse to keep all the idle from actual hunger. They think that cheaper than a revolution, and they are right. Fortunately this, the richest of nations, need have no dole, and no idle, except among the lazy and incompetent, if the great fortunes that run the country will use their brains, or hire someone to think for them.

So many ways of making a living. One woman started selling coffee in a park and has millions. In this part of the world a Negro woman started a small eating shanty, cooked well, and her business, taken over by white people, is worth millions.

Arland Dickson, who runs the Dickson Mound mine ranch, has just shipped seventy-five of the small fur animals, getting $2,925 in cash for them. Not much in Wall Street, but a great deal on a mine ranch. The Fulton Democrat tells about that.

For brains and ingenuity there are always openings and success. What is wanted is something that will give a decent living to any man or woman willing to do honest work. Even the average man has a right to live, or should have.

At Lady Astor's, George Bernard Shaw gave Dwight Morrow, and other American naval conference delegates, his views on the conference. He said the next naval battle would be a fight between America and England and "your conference is called to decide that you will fight twelve instead of fifteen miles apart, with smaller boats and smaller guns."

Wet Sentiment Test Approved But Dry Law Changes Doubtful

Referendum And Amendment To Repeal Welcomed By Many As Means To End Controversy, But Modifications Believed Unlikely.

Test of the real sentiment toward present prohibition laws by means of an amendment to the constitution and a referendum placed before the whole people, are looked upon by the majority of the press as a worthy effort. Many doubts are expressed, however, that the results in either case would point to any change.

As to simple referendum, proposed by Senator Watson, the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE suggests that it "would fill a long-felt want," and that it should be a "referendum by States," holding that "if we know where the States stood, it would clear the air of a great deal of bitter controversy based on guesswork." Merit in this plan, for it holds, "it is better than a mere notion that the returns would everlastingly put a quietus on the wets," while the HOUSTON CHRONICLE expresses opposition with the argument: "The proposition is like asking the owner of a piece of property to pitch pennies with you to see who shall own the property." It advises the opponents of the liquor laws to "offer some plan which will settle the matter once for all."

"If the vote were close, the situation would be about the same as it was before the referendum," declares the SIOUX FALLS DAILY ARGUS, and the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS says of the prospect: "Such a referendum, if taken in every State and representing at least as heavy a vote that recorded in presidential election, would be of value in estimating the sentiments of the people. It is open to question if the referendum would settle anything."

"Is there any reason," asks the SALT LAKE DESERET NEWS, "why the Constitutional procedure by which the other 18 Amendments to the Constitution were made a part of that institution is insufficient for this particular one? To talk referendum in this case is simply evasion and subterfuge." THE APPLETON POST-CRESCENT feels that the vote "would be valuable as disclosing as nearly as state opinion toward prohibition throughout the country." THE ANN ARBOR DAILY NEWS concludes that "as a matter of principle, the referendum idea appears reasonably sound, but a blind election, to be decided upon a 'yes' and 'no' basis, would not produce a satisfactory solution for the present problem."

"Senator Watson, it should be noted," comments the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE, "has been dry in politics when commitments were unavoidable. His idea, however, is that the two major parties should not be forced to mix prohibition and politics. In brief, he holds that prohibition is not a legitimate issue, at least while the major parties are forced to emphasize other issues. The Senator's proposal may be an attempt to force prohibition into position as an independent issue, neither Republican nor Democratic. Examined in that light, it has great potential value."

The suggested amendment for repeal of prohibition, which is advocated by Senator Blaine as a test of public sentiment, and which Senator Borah declares will be decisively defeated in Congress, draws positive comment. THE ALBANY EVENING NEWS says: "In view of the repeated contention of the wets that prohibition has been foisted upon the country by a minority of fanatics in political power, it might be worth while to have a direct national expression of sentiment at the ballot box on the question. Shall the amendment be repealed? But for most of us the voting of Congress is sufficient evidence. Representatives and Senators are not safe for trifling exceptions, voting against their accurate knowledge of the will of their constituents."

"Comparatively the group of States in which the wets are showing real signs of strength," according to the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "is small. But the issue has a wide effect on the individual Senators and members of the House from these States to a very large degree. Some of them would see a vote on the prohibition amendment with very little enthusiasm, knowing that whichever way they answered on roll call they would alienate some of their constituents on the repeal proposal and help to clear the atmosphere, and make it possible for the American people and the American press to discuss something besides the liquor issue."

"It is a slow process at best," advises the CHARLESTON EVENING POST, "the movement of so large a body of people as are in the United States toward any general policy, but in the course of time, doubtless there will develop a general trend, which will finally find an outlet in some determined course. Such a controversial policy as prohibition should never have been introduced into the Constitution, but should have been left to the determination of the several States. But it is in the Constitution and it will take much more than a resolution of Congress to get it out."

"No one can mind Senator Blaine's resolution," thinks the MILWAUKEE JOURNAL. "Let the Senate vote on submitting repeal of the 13th Amendment. No one ought to feel very bad about Senator Watson's proposal, if the Senator will show how the thing can be done. But what people do begin to notice and complain of is that these men and the others do an awful lot of talking about proposals that don't amount to a hoof. The Congressional Record is chock full of yapping about prohibition that neither affected votes in House or Senate nor was it expected to affect

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

"AND THERE YOU ARE"

The decision of the Supreme Court of Vermont, in January, holding that the law requiring a person to disclose where liquor had been secured is unconstitutional has been said by the Attorney General, J. Wood Carver, as being one of the most important Vermont Decisions in recent years.

The court held that the disclosure law, which has been in effect since 1852 is invalid and that to force a person to disclose where liquor had been secured upon which he had become intoxicated constitutes a violation of the Vermont constitution.

The case grew out of the arrest of two persons who pleaded guilty before a Justice of the Peace to intoxication. When asked to disclose where they obtained the liquor, under the authority of the law, they refused and were lodged in jail.

The Supreme Court held that since the requirement of disclosures under the law was invalid, their arrest and detention was improper.

A Missouri Federal Judge has said that one who did not disclose where he got his "bootlegger" was as much a felon as the "bootlegger."

So as "Glorious John" said "and there you are."

Boosters Meet At Bessemer

Three Hundred Attend Meeting In High School Tuesday Evening

SELECT OFFICERS FOR COMING YEAR

The Bessemer Booster Club held its first meeting of the year at 8:00 p. m. Tuesday evening in the Bessemer high school. About three hundred members were present.

The following officers were re-elected:

C. D. Montgomery—President.
Myron Smith—Secretary.
Chas. Weitz—Treasurer.
J. A. Johnson, Paul Kenenberger, D. C. McKee, Roy C. Wallis, directors.
A. A. Shoup chairman of the welfare committee reported that the sum of $250.00 was spent in providing Christmas baskets for thirty needy families in the community.

C. H. Lago chairman of sports committee reported that a Booster Basketball Club was organized and were playing twice a week. He also reported a Volleyball League had been organized and were playing in the High School Gym at 5:30 p. m. each Monday and Friday and urged all the adult men to attend and become members of one of the teams.

The Booster Club agreed to send a good representation to the Lawrence County Basketball Banket at Hillsville on Thursday, February 6th.

The following program was presented by talent from the Bessemer High school:

German Band (in costume) under leadership of J. Martin.

Reading—Wesley Herriger.

Violin Solo—George Pello.

Banjo Selection—Ivan Carlson.

Song—Frances Griffin.

Motion picture "Our Gang Comedy".

Canal Men Asked To File Briefs

WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—The board of army engineers, considering the Ohio River-Lake Erie canal project, today gave the opponents and proponents of the canal an opportunity to file briefs and other data bearing on the subject.

The board already has received a mass of information and is expected shortly to begin its report either recommending the canal or telling Congress the plan is not feasible.

There were a lot of disappointed people last night at the Simpson Methodist church when they could not get in to hear Junior Lehman, the boy preacher of Franklin, Pa. Before 7 o'clock every seat in the church was taken and by seven thirty all available standing room was filled.

Junior Lehman, aged 15, is the boy preacher who has been arousing so much interest. His sermon last evening was taken from the text 2 Timothy 4:7 "I Have Kept the Faith," and his whole thought was centered on the fact that people of the present are so blinded by the light of the modernistic age that they have lost the real light of the spirit. Just as when a person lights a fire outside at night, the stars are excluded from sight, just so has the modernistic lights of the times blinded the people to the true religion. He urged the young people to "Keep the Faith" of our fathers.

The Simpson orchestra of 21 pieces furnished music for the occasion, augmented by the singing of Mr. and Mrs. Lehman, the boy's parents.

Violence Resumed In Taxi-Cab Strike

Bricks Hurlled Through Windows And Windshield Of Yellow Cab In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—After a few days of apparent calm in the local taxi-cab driver's strike, violence threatened again today when bricks were hurled through the windows and windshield of a yellow cab downtown today, narrowly missing the driver and his guard.

The tossers of the bricks escaped. They are thought to have been old drivers on strike or some of their sympathizers.

Neither the drivers nor the officers of the Parmelee transportation company, operators of the Yellow and Green Cab companies have made any statements in the past few days which might indicate that the strike, now in its fourth week, is nearing an end.

Strikers insist they must have 40 per cent of the fares collected and recognition of their union and have added other complaints to their original grievance that an announced raise in wages turned out to be a reduction in income for older drivers while brightening the inducement to new men to enter the service of the company.

Some 1,400 men are affected by the strike. Cabs continue to operate in the downtown section today, carrying deputized guards armed with riot sticks.

Submarine Grounds, But Is Floated, To Undergo Repairs

(International News Service)

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Feb. 5.—The U. S. Submarine O-3 was to be inspected today for damage as result of going aground last night on a ledge off the coast near Rye, New Hampshire.

The submersible, with its three officers and crew of 32 men was floated and brought to the navy yard here by navy tugs, while wireless messages were being flashed to ships at sea to aid in the rescue.

Lieutenant William L. Ware, in charge of the submarine, said today he did not think the craft was damaged to any extent. The submarine went aground during a heavy snowstorm. The sub was built in 1918 and is known as a "baby sub" being only 172 feet long.

The new party plans to fight every law based on religion, Church said.

Candy Not Forbidden TO THE FAT

No need to deny yourself all good things because you are overweight. Modern physicians do not advise starvation. They know the dangers of it. They know that people who are over-fat have generally an under-active gland. So they supply the factor, for lack of which too much food goes to fat.

This modern method is the basis of Marmola prescription tablets. These tablets were perfected, and are prepared, by a famous medical laboratory. A book in each box states the formula and explains the reasons for results.

For 22 years Marmola has held the top place in its field. Millions of boxes have been used in fighting fat. The people who gained new youth and beauty, new health and vigor, have told others. Now the results are seen everywhere. Excess fat has largely disappeared.

There is usually no excuse for an abnormal figure and the dangers which go with it. If the cause is an under-active gland, Marmola is the right way to combat it. For 22 years, countless people have been learning what it does.

Go try Marmola and learn what they have learned. Read the book in the box, then do as directed. Take four tablets a day. When you see that results are coming, go on and complete them. You owe that to your future. Start today.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will gladly order for you.

food, condensed in meat. Shaw must absorb great quantities of substitutes. Not good for him.

At New York's Cooper Union Institute of Technology, 150 trained chemists are taking "an education for the educated," course in chemical engineering. Scientific knowledge increases so rapidly, that men determined to keep up, must go back to school, at intervals or read intensely.

At the beginning of this century, serious chemists agreed that the science of chemistry had gone about as far as it could be expected to go, ever, and in the last 30 years, chemists have learned 10 times as much as they had learned in the thousands of year before 1900. There is no limit to knowledge. The earth will last millions of millions of years longer. And we are only 12,000 years from the late stone age. How much shall we know, say in the year three million.

Speaking of knowledge and science, will some engineer or pump maker send to this writer care Los Angeles Examiner, information as to the possibility of removing sand from the bottom of a dug well, by suction, or otherwise. There should be something better than the old fashioned sand bucket. Information received will be handed on to other well owners.

On Sunday, in Los Angeles, the old-fashioned Chinese celebrated their New Year's day old style. Modern China takes over our calendar, new year and all. Some Chinese thing that may offend the gods. Conspicuous in the celebration was the "Chinese Lion" carried on men's shoulders, doing a fantastic dance, on a rope-enclosed platform. The dance lasted for hours. When it was over, the lion collected money and food. He was not a real lion, of course. Old fashions are vanishing. It is thought China's new year lion will never dance again, in this country.

Other cities will want to know of Detroit's plan for catching criminals by radio. As soon as reported, each burglary, holdup, etc., is sent broadcast. Policemen in fast automobiles, equipped with receiving apparatus dash to the scene of the crime, and often capture the criminals fleeing with their plunder.

Four Stores In Chicago Damaged By Fire And Blast

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—An explosion of undetermined origin, followed by a fire, wrecked four stores here today, causing damage estimated at $35,000. Five persons were hurled from their beds by the explosion and sustained cuts and bruises.

Police and fire officials were unable to determine whether the blast was caused by a bomb or by leaking gas.

A hasty investigation led authorities to believe the explosion occurred in the shoe store of Max Blumenthal. A clothing store next door was so badly wrecked, however, that it was difficult to locate the source of the blast.

The blast also damaged a confectionery store and a shoe repair shop. Windows were broken for several blocks around.

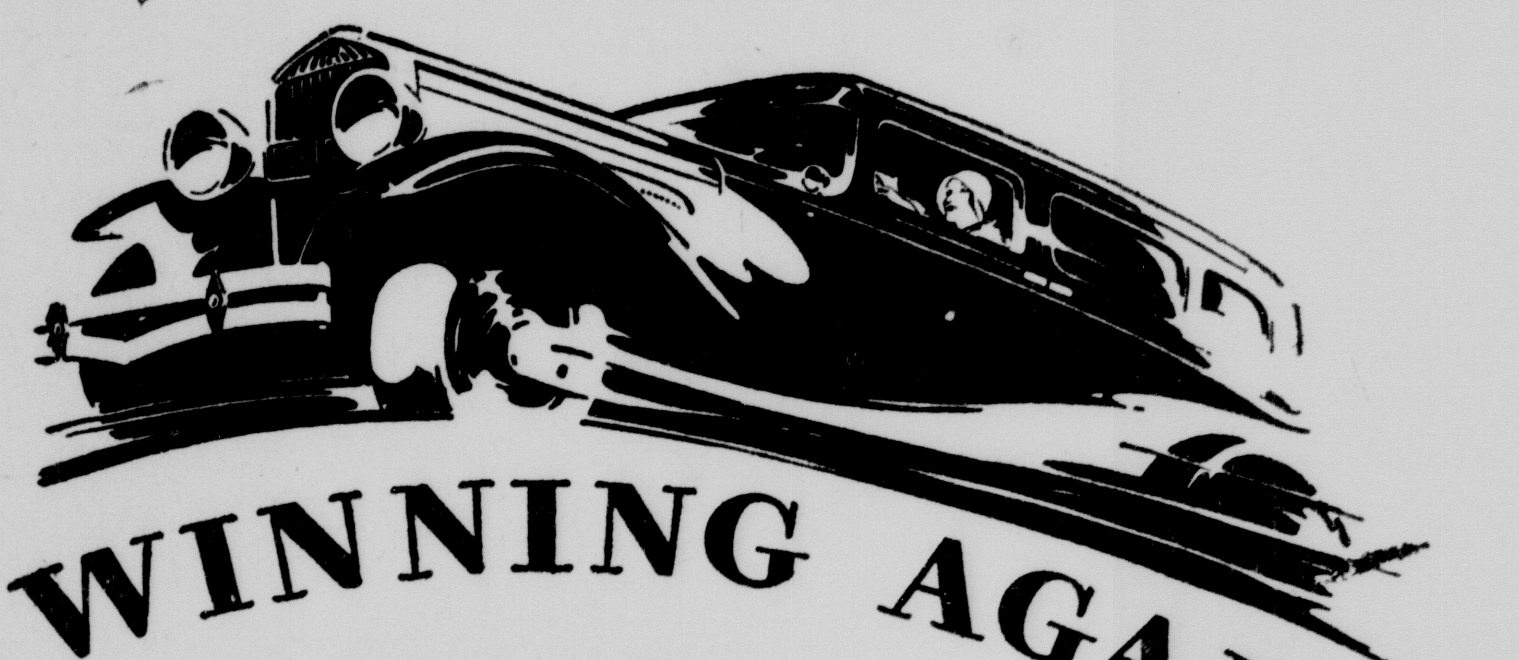

The injured include Peter Prock, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kalina and their children Anna, 20, Adeline 16 and George, 18.

Ham And Eggs For Students

(International News Service)

ITHACA, N. Y., Feb. 5.—"Wreck two with thinly done toast."

That will be the bon mot of the moment at the Cornell University Junior prom here Friday night, it was learned today. For the managers of the event decided ham and eggs would be served, instead of ice cream and cake. The latter was held to possess too few calories to replace the energy consumed in dancing.

Its 3 Major Challenges Performance Distinction and Value...

with a larger, longer, roomier car... with even faster speed... with greater power... with quicker get-away... also challenges in good looks—in real values—in reliability and in price...

The NEW ESSEX Challenger

The common exclamation of everyone when he has ridden in the new Essex Challenger is: "How did you do it! How do you get this greater power and faster get-away! How do you get this speed?"

"My Essex the Challenger is a wonder—but, man, this is a revelation."

It is a new Essex Challenger from front end to tail light. It is longer, larger car. The Super-Six motor is made smoother and given a wider performance range. The motor retains every advantage you know in economy and long life. It is so distinctly modern in all things that count that you must want to own it.

The bodies are roomy. Three won't crowd the rear seat. There is room for your hat. You don't have to squeeze into the driver's seat. The clutch and brakes operate at the slightest foot pressure. Proper balance and mechanism make it easy to steer.

This sweeping challenge is for you to know the facts. It is for you to know that a thoroughbred automobile is available at a price all can afford.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—One sure way to chalk up a reputation as a great humorist: Poke fun at things everyone feels he's superior to, and can afford to laugh at.

NOW WILL THEY BE GOOD?

When the announcement reached Park avenue that Paris had decreed long gowns, society women insisted they would boycott the innovation—even threatening to create their own styles. Whereupon Fifth avenue merchants, who for a great many years have supplied these women with wardrobes, merely smiled and shrugged.

A. A. Lordi of Hickson, Inc.—than which there is no whicker—became quite peeved at the Park avenue rebels. And he is quoted thus:

"Change styles, will they? Rats! What do society women know about style?"

It wasn't so much the cruel impeachment of taste, as the fact that Monsieur A. A. Lordi, of Hickson, Inc., should say "Rats!"

Great indeed must have been the perturbation of soul that would betray the presiding genius of Hickson, Inc., into the use of so disparaging a monosyllable.

A man capable of hurling the word "Rats!" at them might be prompted even to sterner invective. So the girls shivered and dutifully donned the lengthened gowns.

An ounce of psychology is worth a ton of argument.

And psychology is the synonym science has invented for "hoovey."

IRENE FRANKLIN'S RETORT.

The other evening after a performance of "Sweet Adeline" an army officer and a party of friends called upon Irene Franklin in her dressing room. The officer had met Miss Franklin during the war when she was over there entertaining the boys under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

During their talk the officer recalled an instance of Miss Franklin's quick wit in handling a difficult situation.

"She was working in one of the hospital areas," he said, "and on

THE QUESTION BOX

CENTRAL PRESS
WASHINGTON BUREAU

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained medical or legal questions by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital.

Where can the various states' bonded indebtedness be obtained? asks a reader of the Question box? The figures are available at the financial and economic research section of the U. S. treasury department.

Is the starting point of a water-spout from the sea's surface or from clouds? The initial impulse is atmospheric. That is, the spray and mist are drawn upward—in effect, a cloud.

Had Robert G. Ingersoll a college education? Where did he get his flow of language? Colonel Ingersoll was not university taught. He was naturally eloquent.

Which is correct?—enclose or inclose? Either one: "enclose" generally preferred.

My dictionary gives neither "all-right" nor "all right." Why? No such word as "all right," though some folks use it. "All right" is o. k., but in the dictionary in two different places—under the "a's" and under the "r's."

Are there any billionaires in the United States? Henry Ford is generally credited with a billion or more. It is pretty hard to estimate most large fortunes except by the incomes they yield and these may represent big profits rather than correspondingly large investments.

Is there any law forbidding the use of aluminum ware in the home? There is no such law.

Which yields most nicotine?—cigars, cigarettes, pipes, snuff or the plug? The amount is infinitesimal from any of these sources.

Which was the elder, Frank or Jesse James? Alexander Franklin (Frank) James was born Jan. 10, 1843; Jesse Woodson James, Sept. 5, 1847.

If an object sinks in the ocean, does it get to the bottom?—or is it upheld at a certain depth by water pressure? What ever is heavy enough to sink in the water goes to the bottom, unless buoyed up on the way by the generation of gas within itself, in which event it returns upward until some part of its bulk floats above the surface. This question has been definitely settled by the hydrographic office of the navy department.

Peter's Adventures

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

ONE SOLDIER AGAINST A REGIMENT

When Biffer and the boy had come within a stone's pace of the timothy grass, Biffer gave a gasp and halted his companions.

"Look," whispered the young Gun-Beetle. "There are the enemies Lizard-Beetle is after us. Ooh! How many of them there are—a regiment at least. See what they are doing. Oh dear me, how terrible!"

At first Peter could see nothing for Biffer to be excited about. But the boy kept staring at the clump of timothy grass and it seemed to him that the blades of grass were moving, very gently, to be sure, but moving, and in a shivery sort of way that gave Peter the creeps. As the boy drew a step nearer, wondering what made the grasses quiver, he discovered something that almost made him doubt the evidence of his own eyes.

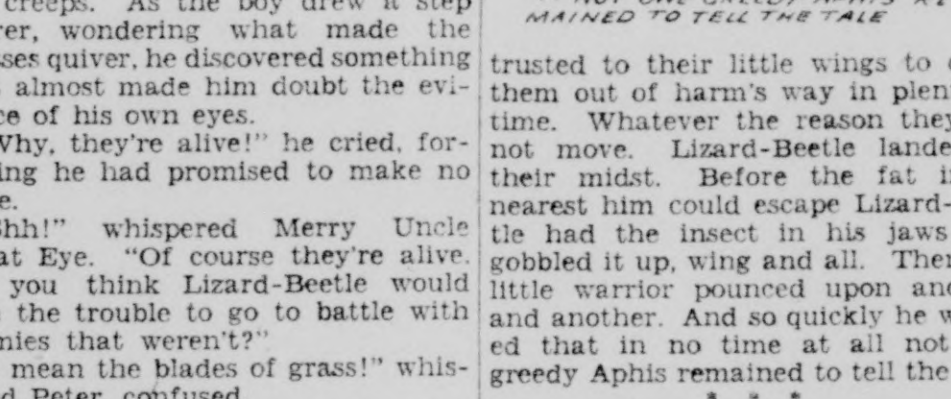

"Why, they're alive!" he cried, forgetting he had promised to make no noise.

"Shh!" whispered Merry Uncle Great Eye. "Of course they're alive. Do you think Lizard-Beetle would take the trouble to go to battle with enemies that weren't?"

"I mean the blades of grass!" whispered Peter, confused.

Sure enough, Peter was right. The blades of grass were alive. To every stalk clung hundreds of tiny insects that looked like wee grats. Nor were they clinging harmlessly to the stalks! Each insect carried his own sharp tube. And every once in a while he would jab this through the stalk and then through the tube suck up the juice of the stalk.

The very sight of the greedy insects made Lizard-Beetle furious and up a stem he raced, but so swiftly and so slyly that not one of the suckers heard him. Or it may have been they heard but were too busy stuffing themselves to heed; or possibly they

Franklin Gospel Singers Give Concert in Grove City Church Monday Evening

GROVE CITY, Feb. 5.—The colored quintet which is heard daily over the radio from Franklin Gospel Tabernacle was heard Monday evening in the Grace Methodist church at 7:30 o'clock. They were brought here under the auspices of the Wesley Adult Bible class. It was necessary to take them upon this date or it would be until late summer before another date could be had.

TO OPEN CLUB ROOMS.

Within a short time the rooms of the Business and Professional Woman's club will be ready to open. The plan is to have the rooms comfortably furnished and books and magazines will be on hand at all times for any one who wish to use the rooms as a reading room.

The organization has only been formed for a short time and although the number of charter members was quite large, it is expected that many more will be received as soon as the organization gets to functioning smoothly.

TAKES OVER DUTIES.

Norman A. Milner, former boro councilman took over the duties of boro manager this morning. Milner is taking the place of former borough manager, Charles Flitz, who has been in charge of the work for four years.

Volant Man Is Good Authority On Subject Of Stamp Collecting

(By JANET KISSINGER)

Although some hobbies and fads come and go, interest is always keen in the subject of stamp collecting.

There are, no doubt, several hundred New Castle people who have been saving old postage stamps for many years. And many of the collectors have in their possession stamps which their fathers before them had collected.

When a hobby interests hundreds of people in one locality, continuously, through years and years, it is pretty good proof that there is something really fascinating about the subject.

Frank McWilliams of Volant knows just about everything there is to be known about old and obsolete United States and foreign stamps. He started collecting stamps while living in this country in 1897. He saw an article in a magazine telling of the money that could be made by collecting old stamps. The article interested him and he started the search for stamps in his spare time—the search which was to give fruit to the finding of rare postage stamps which would delight King George of England, another stamp enthusiast.

Mr. McWilliams obtained his first stamps from an old box in the attic of a village squire, in 1897. When he had asked if there was any old letters around, he had been told by the owner of the house that there was a whole pile of letters in a box in the attic, if he cared to get them. He did, and that was how the collection was started.

Little by little more stamps were added. Some, McWilliams bought from other collectors and stamp dealers, some he secured by trading and others he found on old and yellow discarded envelopes.

In 1924, Mr. McWilliams sent a large part of his collection to a stamp company, asking for a bid for the stamps.

Promptly he received a check for $4,200. Here was a case where a hobby proved to be a practical money maker.

making pastime. The stamps, which brought the $4,200 included 20 five-cent stamps issued in New York City in 1845, and 30 ten-cent stamps issued in 1847. He had the first postal card made in the United States. It was issued in 1873. The first envelope was issued in 1857, according to Mr. McWilliams.

McWilliams has given away a large number of his foreign stamps, recently, and having sold a great many others, his collection is, at present, not a very large one.

Mission Services To Close Tonight

Last Of Services In The Missionary Convention At Hoover Heights Tabernacle

The interest continues at the Missionary convention now being held at the Hoover Heights tabernacle. A fruitful service was held last evening closing with a large number gathered around the altar, some seeking to take new steps with God.

A very interesting service was held yesterday afternoon for the school children, of the J. P. Byers school. A mass meeting for the men was held when the ways, customs and dress of the countries of China and Africa was told them. Miss Sherwood appeared in the native costume of the tribe in which she is working.

At the evening service, which opened with a short song service, Rev. Wm. Davis spoke of China. He spoke mostly of the curse and evil of the opium habit.

Dr. Hooper spoke on "Being Filled With the Spirit." He dwelt on the disappointment of the world. He stressed how some would do all in their power to gain earthly renown and success. He then urged his hearers to enter into all the fullness of God.

The closing service will be held this evening when Miss Sherwood will give missionary tidings and Dr. Hooper will bring the closing message.

Bugle And Drum Corps To Rehearse

Members of the bugle and drum corps of the Consistory Legion of Honor, will hold their weekly rehearsal in the Cathedral this evening.

The corps made a snappy appearance at Franklin Friday evening in connection with the visit of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, and other similar appearances are planned for the future.

Woman Using Planes To Fly To Work Daily Refuses To Drive Car

By Central Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Feb. 5.—Auto-mobiles with their squawking horns always did seem dangerous to Mrs. Peter Hincy, Youngstown music teacher. Yet Mrs. Hincy never has had a similar fear of the air.

She holds a record of owning three airplanes but never has owned a car. She also has the distinction of having flown planes but never has driven an automobile.

Is Music Teacher

Mrs. Hincy operates a music studio at Greenville, Pa., 50 miles from Youngstown, and makes a round trip by air to Greenville each day. Dreading her daily bus trip she decided to purchase a plane and learn to fly.

So she bought a three-seated open biplane and hired a pilot to teach her to fly it. But an inexperienced pilot attempted to fly her plane out of a small field with a heavy load. He attempted to make the ship climb too fast and it went into a spin.

Undaunted

Neither the amateur pilot or his passengers were injured, but the plane was completely wrecked. Mrs. Hincy immediately purchased two similar planes and hired two pilots.

Now she takes flying instructions at regular intervals from her pilots and expects to purchase a tiny cabin plane soon to fly to her studio.

The little cabin plane, she says, will save her considerable money, time, and will also make her daily trips more comfortable. It will fly 100 miles an hour and burns four gallons of gasoline an hour.

"And the air," she says, "has none of the dangers that lurk along the highways for unsuspecting motorists."

GOOD RESULTS IN THREE DAYS

Woman Gets Quick Relief From Severe Pain

"One bottle of World's Tonic has done so much for me that I must tell you about it," said Mrs. O. J. Stuckenburg of Harmony, Pa. to the druggist as he wrapped up her purchase of World's Tonic. "I was in a terrible state when I began its use, and so many of my troubles have been helped that I am sure I have at last found the right remedy. For the last year I have suffered more than I can tell. Most painful of all were the sharp aches in my back, arms and shoulders. Whenever I would sit long in one position, and when I had been lying down, my arms and back would hurt me so that I could hardly keep from crying out. The trouble started with my stomach about a year ago. At first I only lost my appetite. Then I felt distress after eating. Soon I belched much gas. I had to use physics. My skin got yellowish and my breath became foul. I suffered much from the pain, but I suffered even more from the humiliation of a bad breath and the gas on my stomach. I was afraid to go any place. Then these pains began in my back and arms. They worried me greatly.

"One day I decided to try World's Tonic. Other remedies had not helped me and yet I knew something existed that would restore my health. I had taken World's Tonic about two days before I felt and real benefit. Then it seemed to me that my stomach was less tender. The next day I felt better in every way, and I have not had the pains that worried me so since. It is simply wonderful what help World's Tonic has been to me so soon.

"I am going to take a full course of six bottles, and I am just as sure that I shall be as well as I ever was in my life. With the pain gone and my stomach behaving itself, there is nothing in the way of my complete recovery."

Not always do sufferers obtain relief as quickly as did Mrs. Stuckenburg but thousands have been helped by World's Tonic so rapidly as to seem marvelous. You may find in this remarkable medicine just what you need for perfect health. Be sure you get the genuine World's Tonic, which can be had at Eckerd's, McKee's, Palmyra's, Smith's or any other first class drug store. (A-26)

Legion Of Honor To Meet Thursday

Important Meeting Will Be Held In Cathedral Thursday Evening By Members

Plans have been completed for an important meeting of the Consistory Legion of Honor in the Cathedral on Thursday evening. Commander Howard Geary stated today.

An important matter of business will be the completion of arrangements for the second of a series of dances, which will be given on Friday evening, Feb. 14th at the Cathedral. Other matters will also occupy the attention of the Legion of Honor and a full attendance of the membership is desired.

Ask For Return Of Money Paid, If It Was Given

CANTON, O., Feb. 5.—Prosecutor James M. Augst on Tuesday was asked, in a resolution passed by the Molly Starke hospital building commission, to bring actions against the Melbourne Construction Co. and Albert L. Thayer, architect, for the recovery of money said to have been illegally paid in connection with the construction of the hospital.

The prosecutor already had indicated that he expected to file the suits, based on testimony in the trial of Thayer on a charge of soliciting a bribe of $7,500 from Melbourne.

Two Young People Have Legs Broken

GREENVILLE, Pa., Feb. 5.—While coasting on Chambers avenue, John Baird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baird, was struck by another boy's sled and had his leg broken.

Miss Mary Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Lillian Stewart, near Clarksville, broke both bones in her right leg, just above the ankle, when she slipped and fell while carrying milk cans.

Ohio Sheriff And Deputy Pay Visit
To County Jail

Had Worked On Irene Schroeder And Glenn Dague Case And Wanted To See Prisoners

Sheriff Ed W. Wilson and Deputy Sheriff C. C. Bird of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, called upon Sheriff Frank Johnston this morning and asked to see Irene Schroeder and Glenn Dague, accused murderers of Brady Paul.

Sheriff Wilson and Deputy Bird became interested in the case when they were asked to search the house of J. W. Crawford, whose home is in that section, in the hope of finding Tom Crawford, the brother of Irene Schroeder.

They searched the house and had a guard placed upon it for several days, but nothing developed that would indicate that Tom Crawford was in the neighborhood.

Sheriff Wilson and Deputy Bird had no official business here in connection with the case, but having occasion to pass through New Castle, they thought that they would like to see the accused murderers.

They were taken into the jail by Sheriff Johnston and after greeting the prisoners and exchanging a few words bid good-bye and left.

By THOMAS W. LLOYD
Written for Central Press
WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Feb. 5.—When I was a lad of eight, and Abraham Lincoln was president, my father was appointed chief clerk of the house of representatives at Washington. Our family moved from our home in Pennsylvania to the capital city.

The Civil War was then in full progress. To see Mr. Lincoln face to face was at that time the height of my boyish ambition.

Upon the occasion of an official visit to the White House my father had told Mr. Lincoln of this childish wish and with the kindness of heart that was so characteristic of him, the president told him to bring me with him on his next visit, which had been set for a few days later.

A Red Letter Day
So it came about that one bright morning in January, 1864, we drove to the executive mansion and, after a short delay, were ushered into the presence of Mr. Lincoln, who received us alone.

As he rose from his chair to his full height I remember wondering whether Mr. Lincoln was ever going to finish getting up. He seemed to open out like a jack-knife at both ends. I could scarcely repress a smile, for only a few days before I had been reading of his remark to someone who had been ridiculing his long legs, "Oh, well, a man's legs ought to be long enough to reach from his body to the ground." I could not help thinking of this and, indeed, he did have the longest legs I have ever seen on a human being.

Tall, gaunt, awkward and ungainly he stood, looking down at me. But when my eyes sought the rugged, careworn face, the ruggedness and awkwardness were gone in an instant. I saw nothing but that sad, earnest expression, the deep-set, kindly eyes, the firm mouth about which a smile hovered and heard the kindly voice as he said, "So, you wanted to see Abraham Lincoln. Well, here he is, the whole length of him."

He then sat down, took me on his knee and talked with me for a little while about the progress of the war. We then took our leave—I carrying memories with me that grow more hallowed as the shortening years roll by.

Another Incident
The next time I saw him was a few evenings after this, at one of his receptions, where I had been taken by my father and mother. And here again occurred one of those little incidents so typical of the man.

The scene was an interesting one. Kinman was a tall as Lincoln, but was much heavier and better proportioned. He was dressed, even to his cap, in clothing made from the skins of wild animals with their hair still on, and presented a very picturesque appearance. After the ceremony of presentation was concluded we remained for some time listening to Kinman's stories of frontier life in which the president evinced the keenest interest, every now and then being reminded of something that had occurred in his own early life on the Illinois border. Kinman then gave some renditions on a violin made from the frontal bone of a Rocky mountain burro, which he played with great skill.

I saw Mr. Lincoln several times after this at his own receptions and again during the delivery of his second inaugural from the east front of the Capitol building, where I stood within 50 feet of him.

That morning was inclement storming so violently that it was at first thought the address would have to be delivered in the senate chamber. But the people had gathered in immense numbers in spite of the storm and just before noon the rain ceased, the clouds broke away and, as the president took the oath of office, the blue sky appeared. A small white cloud, like a poised bird, hung over his head, and the sunlight suddenly breaking through it, fell upon him with glory afterwards thought to be an emblem of the martyr's crown so soon to rest upon his head.

The Memorable Address
I saw Mr. Lincoln step forward to the desk on which an open Bible lay, his rugged face appearing above all those surrounding him—calm and sad, but so unlike any other in that vast assemblage that one might well have wondered how he happened to be there. I saw Chief Justice Chase administer the oath of office and heard every word pronounced by Mr. Lincoln's kindly voice as he delivered that address.

There was no attempt at oratory, the gestures were ungraceful, but every syllable that he uttered sank deep into the hearts of his listeners. And when those immortal words fell from his lips—"With charity for all, with malice towards none, with firmness in the right as God gives us to see the right; let us strive on to finish the work we are in, to bind up the nation's wounds, to care for him who shall have borne the battle and for his widow and his orphan; to do all that may achieve a just and lasting peace between ourselves and among all nations," the vast concourse of people gathered in front of him for a moment stood breathless. Then a mighty cheer broke from 10,000 throats, echoing and re-echoing up to the blue vault of heaven.

I saw him again on the evening of April 11, 1865, two days after the surrender of General Lee and three days before his own assassination, and heard him deliver the last speech he ever made, from the window of the executive mansion.

A week later I saw him again—and for the last time—in death—as he lay in state in the rotunda of the Capitol—calm, peaceful, the lines of the rugged face smoothed out, the kindly eyes closed forever—those eyes that had looked so gently into mine on more than one occasion. As I gazed upon the upturned face, I remembered thinking, perhaps for him it was better so.

And time has vindicated that boyish judgment.

HELP KIDNEYS BY DRINKING MORE WATER

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys and Help Neutralize Irritating Acids

Kidney and bladder irritations often result from acidity, says a noted authority. The kidneys help filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it may remain to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread; the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is often one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Begin drinking lots of soft water, also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast. Continue this for two or three days. This will help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer are a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs, which then act normal again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by acid irritation. Jad Salts causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink which may quickly relieve your bladder irritation.

Hoffmaster Wins Highest Honors

Named As Captain Of Men's Debating Team At Slippery Rock

Donald Hoffmaster, graduate of the New Castle high school in the class of 1927, has been selected as the captain of the men's debating team in debating at Slippery Rock State Teachers' College for the coming season. Mr. Hoffmaster, with six other students, was selected from a group of 42 aspirants for the college debating team. Coach Heim has been hearing try-outs since the Christmas holidays in preparation for the final selection of the varsity debating squad which has just been announced at the college.

Mr. Hoffmaster had the distinguished honor of being selected for the third consecutive year for the varsity debating team. This honor has come to no other individual at the Teachers' College. Appreciating his ability, his classmates have selected him editor-in-chief for the college annual for next year. Beside these distinctions listed above, Mr. Hoffmaster has held offices in these organizations: president of the Press Club, president of the Demosthenian Debating Club, treasurer of the College Y. M. C. A., leading roles in several dramatic productions of the college.

Such records as these put our New Castle students at a premium in whatever line of work they choose.

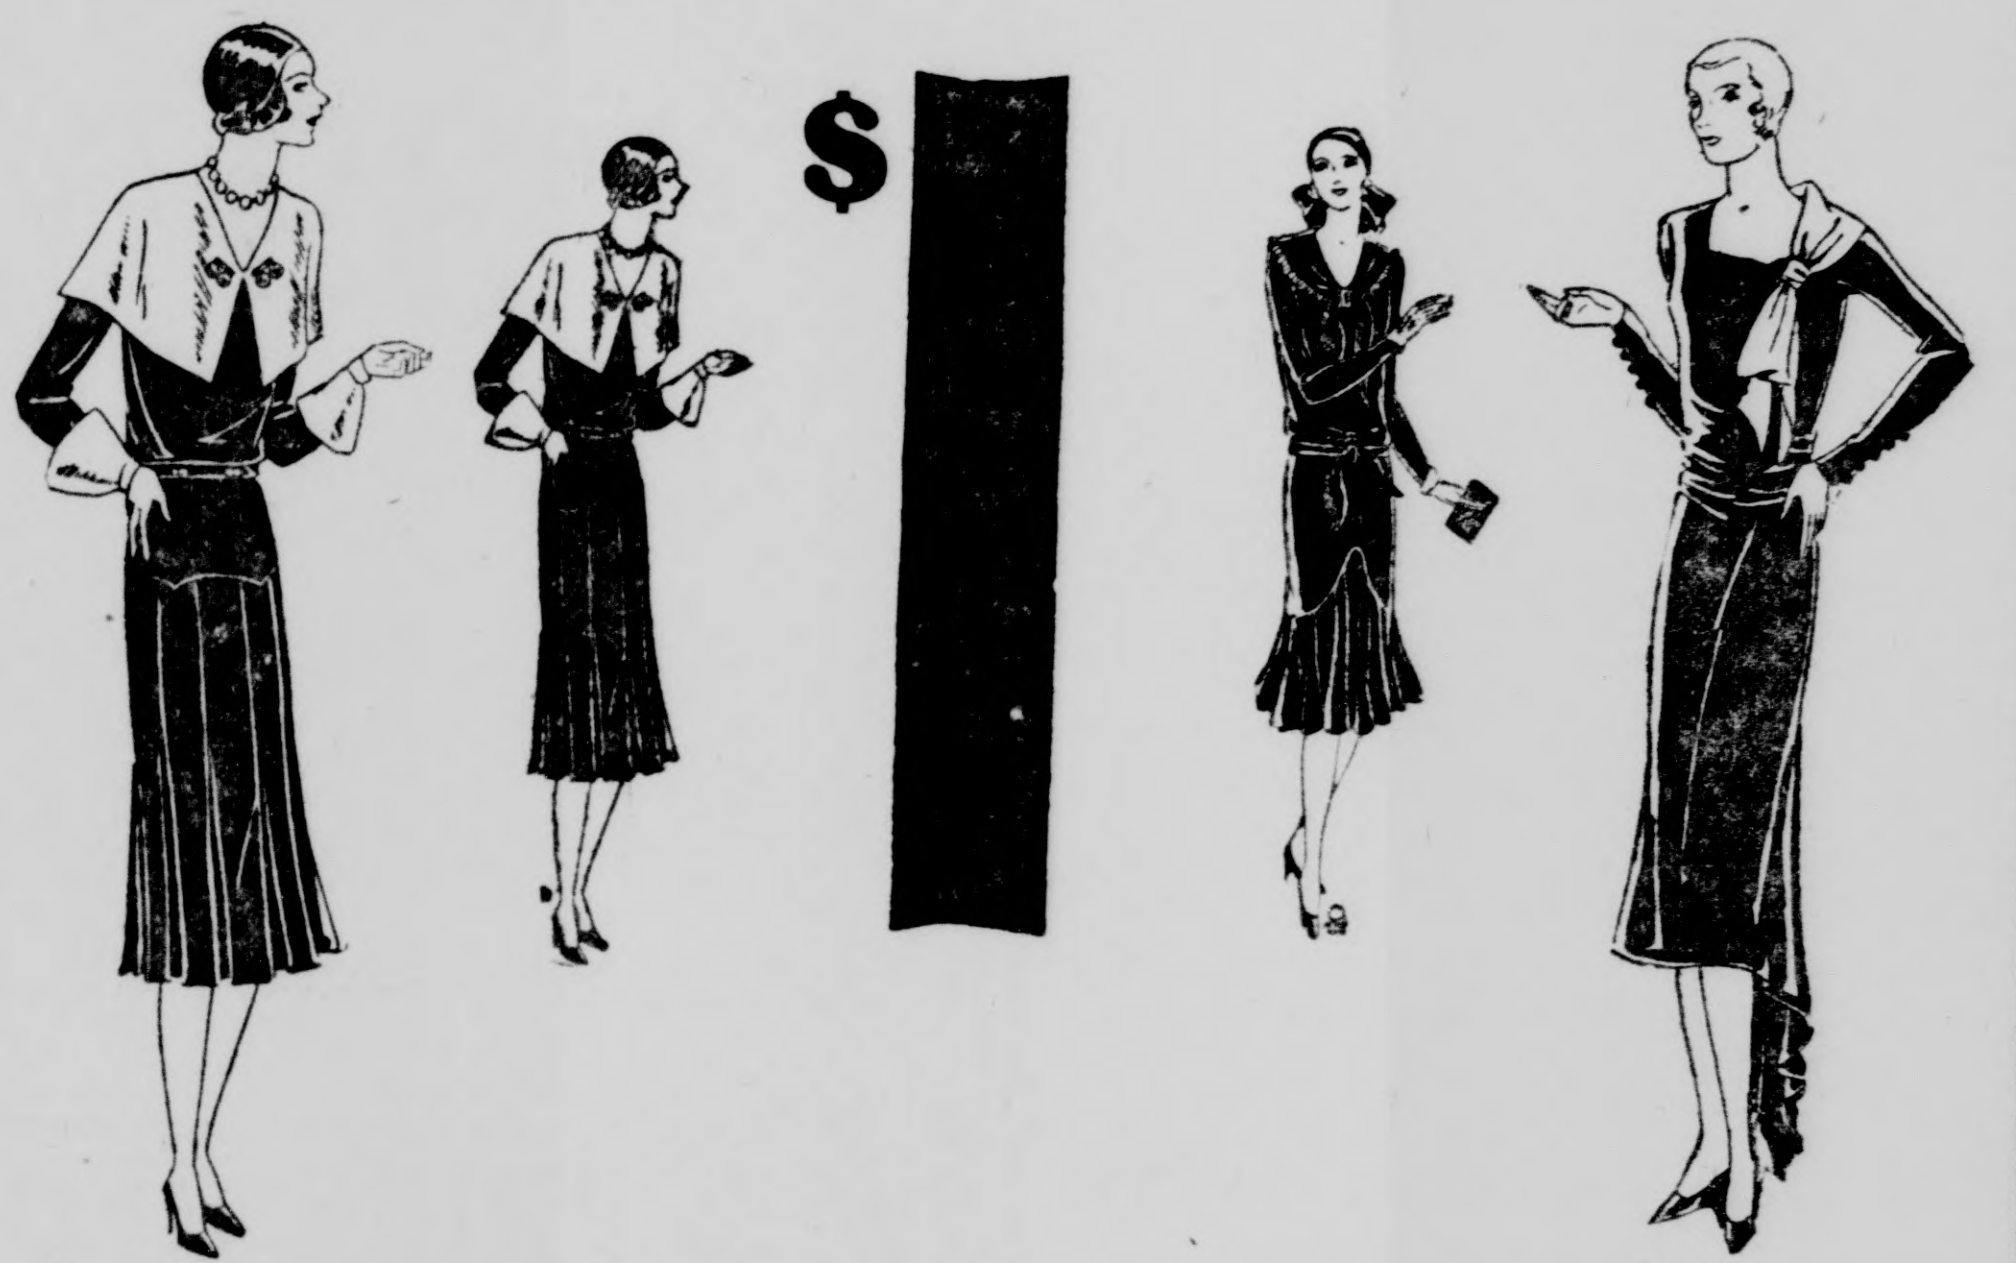

Donald Hoffmaster is a son of Prof. Asa Hoffmaster, supervising principal of the North street school, New Castle, Pa.

'IT' DID 'IT'

One month ago today we made the announcement in this paper that we were going to raise ONE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS IN CASH through the entire chain of IT STORES within one month's time. The month was over last night and a quick check-up proved that we have made good. The people of New Castle responded generously to our sales and as an act of appreciation of this spirit we have decided to have a CELEBRATION OFFERING.

Celebration Offering Thursday and Friday of 500 SILK DRESSES

You Purchase One Dress for $7.95—Then You May Select Another of the Same Lot for $1.00

The same identical offering of dresses that created a sensation during the month of January. Additional arrivals have augmented this group until it exceeds in variety and selection the original offerings. We challenge duplication of these offerings at anywhere within $5 of their price.

COATS $9.95

Also Featured in This Celebration $16.95

A Saving of

50% to 75% $24.95

$29.95

An outstanding array of the advance fashion as dictated by the great style centers. Representing savings of $10, $15 and $20 on each garment. Every type is represented in many sizes. The variety is almost endless. The colorings infinite. See these coats by all means.

Hats $1.00

No one trying to detail the variety of stunning hats in this department. Sufficient to say you would expect to pay double and triple this price for inferior quality. Judge for yourself.

Pulaski Township Woman Celebrates Her 90th Birthday

Miss Anne Porter Still Lives On The Farm Where She Was Born

Doesn't Like Horses

Miss Anne Porter of Pulaski township celebrated the 90th anniversary of her birthday on Tuesday, Feb. 4th. A feature was a shower of birthday cards from her many friends.

Miss Porter is the daughter of Henry and "Becky" Porter, pioneer settlers in Lawrence county. Miss Porter still resides on the same farm where her advent into this world took place.

The psalmist in speaking of the years of life says, "The days of our years are three score years and ten, and if by reason of strength they be fourscore years," but for longevity Miss Porter has passed the psalmist's maximum by ten years. Notwithstanding her advanced age, her eyesight is not dim nor her natural force much abated.

Miss Porter receives the New Castle Daily News and is well versed upon all the current events of the day. She is able to follow the radio program and by this means keeps posted upon the politics of men and measures of the day, snatches the master sermons out of the air and is acquainted with "Amos and Andy".

She was a sister of the late D. W. Porter and resides with her niece, Mrs. Blanche Cummings, and her great-niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stoughton.

Though her hobbies change from week to week, Marion Davies, motion picture star, is scared to death of horses. She prefers her motor cars, costume pictures, wild ducks with corn saute, California and to play, some day, "Nell Gwynne" in a talkie.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

SLAVES TO ROUTINE

A Newark man worked fifty years for one concern. In that time he missed but two days—one day to attend the funeral of his mother and one to attend the funeral of his wife. Although he has been retired on full pay he prefers to work—for the same company. There is no finer quality than loyalty and faithfulness to a job, but there is such a thing as becoming a slave to routine. One who sees only his job and the road to and from his office, who never takes a vacation, who never gets a slant on his work from a distance and from a new angle, is in danger of two things: he is in danger of becoming so much a slave to routine that he can not be happy in any other circumstances and he is in danger of getting into such condition that he makes no progress in his work. Slavery to routine may kill ambition.

COMMUNICATION.

As John Erskine says in Collier's you now hear persons referring casually to a certain orchestra or to a speaker who has never been within a thousand miles of their home. This wider and more frequent contact with music and speakers surely have a pronounced effect on the rank and file of the people. The means for the communication of thought and ideas are increasingly marvelous. The problem now is to bring the quality of the output up to such a level that all of this entertainment and information and inspiration will contribute to making a better and more idealistic citizenship.

A MAN FOR HIMSELF

Former President Coolidge takes sense as usual when he gives the individual American credit for the progress which the republic has enjoyed in its economic life. He does not believe that any trick ideas of government such as socialism or communism will do for the country what earnest, ambitious, individual effort will do. He says, "Nothing more completely demonstrates the ability of the people under our system to take care of themselves. The advocates of defeat have often asserted that the only economic salvation lay in communism, but the independent spirit of the American has constantly replied that the private ownership of property is a sovereign right and he is able to take care of his own destiny."

APPLAUSE.

The suggestion that the word "applause" be cut out of the reports of speeches made in congress and printed in the Congressional Record is a good idea. Too many speeches are made by congressmen for no other purpose than to accumulate some applause which may come to the attention of the voters back home.

Gangster Guns Claim Two More

Two Notorious Underworld Inhabitants In Chicago
Are Placed "On Spot"

DRASTIC ACTION IS NECESSARY

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—With two more gangsters slain by rivals, making a total of six "put on the spot" in less than a week, Chicago's underworld today continued to hurl defiance at the combined campaign of State's Attorney John Swanson and Police Commissioner William Russell to end the reign of violence.

Joseph Buckere, 28, was the latest victim of gang guns. Two men boldly entered Buckere's home, engaged in a loud altercation with him, then sent a bullet crashing through the base of his skull.

Five hours before Buckere was slain, two assassins strode up behind Philip Marchese, notorious underworld character, and shot him dead. Pupils of the Irving school, playing across the street, witnessed the slaying. They saw the victim stagger across the sidewalk and collapse. One boy ran to a corner and turned in a fire alarm.

Mysterious Business Buckere, according to police, was known under two names and was engaged in a mysterious business which netted him an excellent income although he posed as a grocer.

Neighbors heard the slayers arrive.
Loud talking was heard, then Buckere's radio was turned on full blast.
A few seconds later they heard a dull shot followed by the thud of his body as it fell to the floor.

The two slayers then raced to the street and drove off in a high-powered automobile.

This was the eighth gang shooting and the sixth murder in the last week here. The present reign of violence and death has been punctuated by numerous bombings, two of which did over $100,000 damage.

Police and the state's attorney's office are combining in an attempt to check the reign of murder. They admit drastic steps are necessary.

Swiftest, Easiest Way to End Bilious Spell

When you neglect those first symptoms of constipation—bad breath, coated tongue, listlessness, the whole system soon suffers. Appetite lags.
Digestion slows up. You become headachy, dizzy, bilious.

It's easy to correct sluggish bowel action! Take a candy Cascaet tonight. See how quickly—and pleasantly—the bowels are activated. All the souring waste is gently propelled from the system. Regular and complete bowel action is restored.
Cascaets are made from pure cascara, a substance which doctors agree actually strengthens bowel muscles.
All drug stores have Cascaets. 10c.

missionary conference opens in the Alliance Gospel tabernacle, of which Rev. E. C. Anderson is pastor.

Rev. W. G. Davis, missionary from Central China, will open the conference this evening and the full party will arrive for the Thursday service.
The conference will be held daily until Sunday, when the evening service will bring it to a conclusion.

In addition to the evening services there will be a prayer meeting each morning from 10 to 11 a. m.

Five North Carolina Banks Fail To Open

(International News Service)
RUTHERFORD, N. C., Feb. 5.—
The affairs of five Rutherford county banks were in the hands of the state banking commission today after failing to open their doors for business.

The banks had resources of more than $2,500,000. The banks were:
The Rutherford County Bank and Trust Company here, with resources in excess of $1,000,000, and its branches at Spindale and Union Mills;
The Farmers Bank & Trust Company of Forest City, and a branch at Car-olton.

The banks were closed for the protection of depositors, according to notices posted on the doors of each of the institutions. The closing of the banks left the county with only three banking establishments.

County Triennial Assessment In 1930

Triennial assessment of all property in Lawrence county will be made this year, according to the county commissioners. The assessments, on which taxation will be based for the next three years, will be made by the assessors in the different wards and townships of the county. An effort is being made to have the books ready for the assessors earlier than usual so that they will be able to begin their work before fall.

No Clearing House Figures Kept Here

Although numerous requests are made from time to time for clearing house figures here, no record of the daily clearings are kept in this city.
An official of the local clearing house association stated this morning.
Figures have never been kept in this city, it was stated, and the only way that anyone would be able to find out what the clearings are here, would be to visit the various member banks, and total their figures.

Phillips Keeps Eye On Employees

Howard Phillips, superintendent of the municipal collection of garbage and the incinerator plant hasn't had to make a change in his department for some time, he reported today. Phillips goes to work as early as any of the employees and stays until all the work is finished. As a result his collection and incinerating system has worked to citizens advantage here.

certain it would be passed before adjournment Friday. After that, the bill must get the senate's approval before the transfer is finally authorized.
Once this measure is out of the way, administration leaders will speed action on the proposal to confer police magistrate powers on U. S. commissioners. This plan has met some opposition on the ground that it deprives citizens of their constitutional right to a trial by jury.

Commission Members Called.
The measure would create a special class of "casual offenses," to be treated as misdemeanors, thus complying with the constitutional guarantee.

Because some wets and a few dries continue to insist the measure is unconstitutional, Chairman George W.
Wickersham and Dean Roscoe Pound, of the president's law enforcement commission, will be called before a house judiciary subcommittee tomorrow to discuss this feature. Both Wickersham and Pound have upheld its constitutionality at a secret session.

Husband Kills Wife And Commits Suicide Children Find Bodies

(International News Service)
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 5.—William Barker, 58, a carpenter, and father of four children, shot and killed his wife, Ida Louise Barker, 36, as she lay sleeping at the Barker home near here today and then killed himself.

The second shot awakened the sleeping children who found both parents dead.

The shooting is said to have been the result of a domestic quarrel.

Youthful Alleged Robber Is Held

(International News Service)
NEW CASTLE, Pa., Feb. 5.—George Baughman, 22, of Parnassus, is held for the action of the higher courts today following a hearing last night before Justice of the Peace Lawrence Sutton of Springdale, at which the youth was charged with having stolen loot worth $1,500 in a series of robberies in this valley and in Erie, Pa.

Motorcycle Policeman Harry Lloyd of Springdale arrested Baughman when he found a sweater in the suspect's possession which was alleged to have been stolen with an automobile from Erie.

Five Grove City Stores Robbed

(International News Service)
GROVE CITY, Pa., Feb. 5.—Five business places here were entered by prowlers during the night, police learned today. Little of value was taken and authorities were of the opinion that the robberies were committed by the same man who entered 10 Sharon homes recently.

The places entered were Forker drug store, Smaigh tobacco store, Dunn barber shop, Myers drug store and Lincoln meat market.

Postal Receipts Display Increase

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—Postal receipts at 50 selected cities showed an increase of 1.85 per cent in January over those in January a year ago.
The figures were $32,198,916.55 and $33,615,409.49 respectively.

The three leading cities in percentage gains were: Des Moines, Ia., 19.93 per cent; Houston, Tex., 13.97 per cent, and Dayton, O., 12.07 per cent.

STATE POLICE RECOVER CAR

Poison Pen Letters Make Reappearance

Illness Of Former Acquitted Pen Letter Writer Prevents Immediate Action

(International News Service)
CAMDEN, N. J., Feb. 5.—The serious illness of Miss Sally Mowell, 21, the woman who was tried and acquitted in 1928 of sending poison pen letters to Mrs. Frank Von Moschizker, sister-in-law of Chief Justice Robert Von Moschizker of the Pennsylvania supreme court, will prevent any action at this time authorities said today regarding the new flood of poison pen letters that has dragged the name of Mrs. Von Moschizker into the mire again.

Much secrecy surrounds the affair.
It is reported, however, that an indictment has been returned by the U. S. grand jury here but the indictment was impounded by Judge Avis as were all the papers in the case.

Walter Burnett, Ridgeview electrician, is the latest recipient of the poison pen letters. His name also was mentioned in the notes written to Mrs.
Von Moschizker two years ago.

Mrs. Von Moschizker sued the girl, but after Miss Mowell was acquitted she in turn sued Mrs. Von Moschizker demanding $70,000 damages for defamation of character. The case has never come to trial due to the illness of Miss Mowell.

City Getting Ready To Make Detours

When the city lets a contract and the contracting firm begins work probably in April to repave Grant street, there will be no tie-up of traffic between New Castle and Youngstown as State street, paved only a few years ago, will be the inlet and outlet.

However, detours will have to be established for automobiles journeying toward Harlansburg. It is probable the East Brook road will be used as a detour. The best route to the Butler highway will be via East Washington and Adams streets. Before the contractors get ready to do the work detours will be designated.

Mexican President Takes Oath Today

(International News Service)
MEXICO CITY, Feb. 5.—Before a colorful assemblage of 60,000 persons in the national stadium here, Pascual Ortiz Rubio, descendant of the Aztec kings, today took the oath of office as president of the Mexican republic.

It was a brilliant ceremony, rendered doubly important by the presence of approximately 5,000 Americans, from all parts of the United States, in the huge grandstand. Pic-turesqueness and color was lent the occasion by thousands of Indians, many of them in striking native costumes, who always swarm down from the hills to witness presidential inaugurations in this country.

Husband—Darling, you were quite right. I have considered the matter and find that your opinion was correct.

Wife—Idiot! I have changed my opinion—Ulk, Berlin.

RACE RELATIONS SUNDAY MESSAGE

February 9, 1930

(Contributed)
For eight years an increasing number of churches, Y. W. C. A. boards, Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations have been urging their members to apply the principle of brotherhood in inter-racial contact. That God our Father loves all His children irrespective of race, class or color is our recognized guiding ideal.

It is this guiding ideal, learned at the feet of the great master teacher that prompts the local Y. W. C. A.

with its colored branch to sponsor this inter-racial movement next Sunday afternoon in a fitting service in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium.

Somewhat of progress has been made in the betterment of race relations but so much remains to be accomplished. It is needful to continue to awaken the conscience of the church until all Christians have recognized this guiding ideal; until public opinion, so formed, will demand constructive action for law and order; until all shall stand for greater security for life for every human being, no matter how humble or of what race or color.

ing upon a brink, unable to decide whether to accept the constant attentions of fascinating Ralph Graves or the steady, dog-faithful amorous fidelity of Jack Holt? . . . Then there is adventure ... and how! The kind of stuff you love but seldom see upon the screen . . . spell-binding, breathless daring above and below the clouds, feats of terror that will glue you to your seats and make you say that when . . .

Reports Of Many Crimes Are Broadcast To Police Over New State System

Telegraph printer machines installed in the police station as a part of the state wide net work of such machines for the sending out of information by the state police, so that police authorities in all parts of the state may be acquainted with facts concerning stolen automobiles, missing persons, and criminal acts and persons as soon as possible and have a better chance of getting desired action, are proving very satisfactory here.

In fact the police here have become so accustomed to the new machine and the information that it brings to them, that they look forward each day to the sound of its warning bell and the movement of the keys that print the information for their use.

Approximately twenty messages a day are received over the machine, according to Sergeant James Steiner, consisting of descriptions and facts concerning stolen automobiles and missing persons, reports of crimes committed throughout the state and descriptions of persons wanted in connection with them. A majority of the messages so far have dealt with missing automobiles.

The local police have had quite a number of occasions on which they have had items broadcast over this system, one of the more important of which was the occasion on which Corporal Brady Paul was shot and killed.

Within a very few minutes after this crime had become known to the authorities here, the facts, as far as they could be determined, had been broadcasted on this system throughout the state.

Pension Bill Is Intricate Task

City Solicitor Says Many State Laws Govern Local Measure

"I could draft a pension bill quickly and it would satisfy me but in drafting the measure I must satisfy council, police, firemen and perhaps other employees. There is a lot of law, particular and general involved in the proposed pension bill and it may take some time to write the bill," said Solicitor Robert White today when asked "Are you drafting a pension bill?"

Solicitor White said there are 12 or 15 acts of state assembly in addition to a lot of general law concerning pensions. This concerns three classes, police, firemen and other municipal employees. As yet, it is understood, the bill has not been given specific instructions as to what the bill should provide.

There is one pension bill, it is said but a recent amendment which was proposed was killed off by city council.

It has been maintained by some officials that the 1922 measure is unconstitutional and council's repealer last fall showed they didn't like the amending ordinance.

It is not known if the present council will have the solicitor prepare a measure to include only firemen and police or whether the bill will include other city employees.

However, the belief prevails that Mayor Gillespie, Councilmen Genkinger, Reeves and Treser soon will confer with White and outline to him what they want cared for in the bill he has been requested to write.

Citizens generally are in hearty accord with the plan recently executed by Mayor Gillespie by which he received "first hand" information from manufacturers, contractors, labor and finance men relative to the city's 1930 outlook.

The sessions were the first held here in years and brought about a harmonious feelings, and one realization in particular, that being that the mayor and city council are keenly interested in the welfare of all persons here.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Don't Nag Or Shame Cry Baby

"Every day I read your 'Parent Problem' column with much interest. What remedy would you suggest for a child 10 years old in 5th grade who cries and gives up so easily when she can't get her arithmetic and rest of her studies? When asked by the teacher to go outside to play with other children she doesn't want to, and cries without any apparent reason. She is just medium strong and a little nervous."

"She's not a saucy child, and only cries when she doesn't want to do a thing. What can I do?"

You say she is nervous. Why not begin with this observation as your major clue?

I should go with her to the ablest doctor I could find, for advice about her physical condition. Go over with him carefully her food habits and sleep habits and work out with him a program for her foods, sleep and rest and recreation. If she is not of normal weight I should find in this fact alone a sufficient cause of the trouble.

Once a list of foods was prescribed I should discover what of getting her to take these foods, removing all annoyances. If it were a glass of milk, for instance, she should take at each meal, it would be placed before her with the calm and quiet but decisive announcement that she should not leave the table until she had drunk it. Then I should let her carry out the command and keep my lips wholly sealed concerning that milk. If she is late for school and chooses to sit for several hours, very well. Put first things first.

Any child who cries easily is almost sure to be very nervous. Say nothing about her crying. Act as if you don't notice it. Once she is built up physically the crying may decrease.

She needs more rest and sleep than most children. Don't let her play long at a time. See that she does not get very tired. Have her lie down stretched out for, say, fifteen minutes by the clock, before each evening meal, and when she comes to the table see that there is a quiet, comfortable atmosphere. Tell lots of jokes and many interesting experiences at the dinner hour. Encourage her to tell about her successes and good times. Avoid unnecessary noises and commotions. Let all adults learn to speak with soft, quiet voices.

Be sure you don't baby her. Also be sure you don't shame her, nag at her, or compare her with any other children. Look for signs of jealousies. If another child of the family enjoys considerable success at school or with other children, winning more

Work out many ways whereby this child succeeds, whether in doing little things at home, working at her lessons, or competing in play with other children. Be very liberal with praise for every definite success. Say nothing of her failures.

When you help her at home in arithmetic speak gently; never let your voice rise. Don't even let your breathing betray any annoyance. Keep the child always in a happy, hopeful spirit. Be very generous with praise, celebrate successes. The moment she is confused and you are ruffled the slightest bit, go away, and encourage the child to have some fun. You are never fit to be with your child when you are not a perfect master of yourself. You probably will change the child as you change yourself. Pray for poise and then help Heaven answer you.

A NEW SIMMONS Inner Coil MATTRESS

Priced so everybody in the United States can have one

$19<sup>95</sup>

Hundreds of thousands are flocking to the stores to see this marvelous new mattress

It was a big revolutionary idea—the first mattress built with a heart of tiny resilient coils that could never pack down like hair or cotton. Always buoyant and springy!

The first Simmons Inner Coil Mattress instantly became famous—the Beautyrest. Wealthy women, the first to possess them, gladly came forward and publicly gave their praise of them. Everybody longed to know this wonderful night's rest which those who had tried it told about.

But there were millions for whom this extraordinary comfort was unattainable.

Now the Simmons Company have produced a second inner coil mattress, as far an advance in comfort over cotton, felt or hair mattresses—but at a price that everyone can pay!

Here it is! Priced at only $19.95, springy, buoyant coils and all! Soft upholstery, lovely coverings, new colorings, tailored edges!

It is called the new Simmons "Deepsleep" Mattress. The moment you see it, you will know why nobody wants the old-style mattresses any more!

Try it on the Simmons Deepsleep Box Spring or the Slumber King Spring. The same store will show you all three! Simmons Company, New York, Chicago, Atlanta, San Francisco.

Memorial Bridge Work Is Delayed

Huge Structure At Harrisburg May Not Be Completed For Dedication In August

No Provision Made For Paving Roadway Of Bridge; Will Cost $1,000,000

(From News Bureau) (State Capital)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 5.—Unless action is taken soon the state's expensive Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial Bridge now under construction here will be incomplete when the time comes for dedication in August. Contracts have been awarded for finishing the bridge proper, but as yet no decisions have been reached on paving the roadway.

It is generally expected that the Highway Department will be assigned to do the work. No provision has been made by the department in its budget allocations for this work, which will cost more than $1,000,000.

The bridge is slightly more than a half mile in length and the roadway is 56 feet wide. That is equivalent to nearly a mile and a half of ordinary highway exclusive of the approaches, which will add materially to the amount of pavement to be laid.

Officials of the department contend they are without authority to pave the bridge and approaches. An opinion from the attorney general, however, could correct that impression.

Until the department is told by the attorney general that it has the authority and Governor Fisher directs them to go ahead with the work, nothing will be done. Before bids can be asked on the paving it will be necessary for the department to make surveys of the structure to prepare the plans.

In the event the department would be directed to proceed this week with the work, no contract for the paving could be let much before the middle of next month. There is plenty of time in which to inform the Highway Department to go ahead and have the paving done before the dedication.

A big turnout of World War veterans is expected at the time of the dedication. The state convention of the American Legion has been scheduled for that time and the last legislature made a special appropriation to help pay the expenses of the ceremonies.

1134 Hunters Lose License Privilege

Violations Of Game Law Have Resulted In Many Losing Privileges

HARRISBURG, Feb. 5.—Since 1923 when the Board of Commissioners was first vested with power to revoke hunting licenses, such action has been taken in 1134 cases, according to the last compilation made.

At present 380 revocations are still in effect. Of that number action was taken on July 11, 1929, in 299 cases, for periods of one or two years, according to the offense being punished.

The board has power to revoke hunters' licenses for one or two years after conviction of any game law violation, destroying personal property or crops, careless use of firearms or intoxication while carrying a loaded weapon.

Conviction for a second or subsequent offense permits the Commission to revoke licenses for not less than two years or more than three.

Four Hundred Are Under Arrest In Buffalo, New York

(International News Service)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Four hundred persons were held Tuesday by police for questioning following the probable fatal wounding of Patrolman Carl Wunderlich while frustrating a chain store robbery.

Approximately one hundred more arrests were expected following an order issued by Commissioner Roche to "go out and bring in every suspected gunman, racketeer and gambler."

Roche's clean-up order was the result of a week of crime in which this city suffered one murder, one $20,000 gem robbery, one bombing and an epidemic of store hold-ups.

The arrest of Henry Kaminski, alias Stone, at Toledo, O., as a suspect in the shooting of Wunderlich, was announced by police authorities. Kaminski is to be returned for questioning, Roche said.

State Income Tax Collections Show Increase In 1929

Increased Prosperity Indicated
By Big Business Increase During Past Year

By ARTHUR C. WINER
Special Washington News Correspondent
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—Increased prosperity in Pennsylvania last year as compared with 1928 would seem to be indicated by the treasury department announcement today that the amount of income tax collected by the federal government in the state in 1929 was greater than such collections in 1928 by $8,602,901.30, an increase of slightly less than five per cent.

Income tax collections in Pennsylvania last year amounted to $214,275,811.26 as compared with only $205,672,909.96 in 1928, according to the treasury department figures.

Corporation income collections in the state fell from $116,749,496.20 in 1928 to $112,970,190.32 last year, but income tax collections on individual earnings jumped from $88,923,413.76 in 1928 to $101,305,620.94, the treasury figures reveal.

Collections of miscellaneous taxes in Pennsylvania by the federal government also decreased last year, falling to $23,701,876.59 from $26,745,001.00 in 1928, but the total internal revenue collections in the state in 1929, including miscellaneous and income taxes, amounted to $237,977,687.85, as against $232,417,910.96 in 1928, an increase of $5,559,776.89.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

Fiction isn't strange at all. Here is an amazing young woman in Chicago from a good family, well educated, beautiful, and she says she has ruined her life because she gave up, on advice of her friends and family, "a flirtatious, smiling, happy-go-lucky bum." She questions my advice to another girl and goes on like this:

"He was an ice man, lived in a tough neighborhood and his friends were bums like himself. He fascinated me and I didn't know into what depths I was getting. Every six weeks he would drift away and I'd bring myself to his attention and he'd come back. But now he's gone, and not a solitary thing that I can do to make up for the loss of him."

"My friends said he wasn't good enough for me, that it was fascination that he would destroy all my dreams and ambitions, that I didn't respect him and so didn't love him. Rot, all that. Now I go around with sleek, well educated fellows, who talk and act right, have money and my respect. I fool everybody into thinking I've forgotten the ecstatic trance I was in when I went out with Harry. But I don't fool myself and I'd be willing to crawl back to him on my hands and knees."

"One night he got drunk and married a waitress, one of his own class. Every time the phone rings, do I hope it's one of my well-mannered ambi-

ous decent young fellows? I do not. I pray it's some good news of Harry."

"He didn't try to make me happy. He just acted natural and kidded me. He treated me a little rough at times but I was happy. I can't stand this emptiness now. He did like me a little bit in his selfish, rough, domineering way. He gave me the gate because I was too 'ritzy.' I think I might still be able to do something about it."

"I know you try to advise people wisely, but really Miss Allard, love is the only thing that counts. I never regretted anything more than that I didn't hang on to this man, and be ordered around, and sink down to his level and be happy."

Well I stubbornly stand my ground. It WAS infatuation. It might be one that only marriage could cure.

If life seems empty, there should be somebody around the house who could mistreat you so you wouldn't miss this ice man. Usually every home has one member who is "selfish and domineering" if not rough.

I think you are just a tiny-wenny but insane, Adeline, to want to break up the marriage of the brute and his mate—"his own kind." You certainly are out hunting for trouble, and if you keep on you will get it.

It's a peculiar thing about women (or men) the one they think they loved most, was always the one they lost. But my dear girl there are lots of big brutes around, cheer up. Of course it is more difficult now, getting ice men, since electric refrigeration came in.

CLEAN HATS

Sometimes a very fine sand paper is an efficacious cleaner for felt hats. But it must be used gently and it must be very fine.

POLISHED SILVER

If you drop silver that has been used on eggs into a pan of salt water the minute they come from the table, they are less likely to be discolored.

Rep. Kinzer Takes Oath Of Office

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 5.—John R. Kinzer, Republican of Lancaster, Pa., was sworn in Tuesday as a member of the House, succeeding W. W. Grisel, deceased. A delegation of supporters accompanied him.

This is great news for school boys—that the history of a country is to be written in five hundred words.—The Toronto Daily Star.

News Of The World As Told In Pictures

EDISON'S LIFE IN RETROSPECT AS HE REACHES 83

THREE AIR LEVIATHANS PLAN TRANSOCEAN FLIGHTS

Marking another advance toward regular transoceanic air traffic between Europe and America, three leviathans of the air are scheduled for transatlantic flights in May. The Graf Zeppelin, top, commanded by Dr. Hugo Eckener, inset above, is to attempt a hop to South America, with Rio de Janeiro as its destination. The R-100, British dirigible, center, built by Commander Charles Burney, inset below, is to start for Montreal at the same time, and the DO-X, giant German seaplane, which recently carried 169 passengers on a trial flight, is to attempt a flight to Washington and New York.

Divorced From Tin Plate Heir

Mrs. William B. Leeds, wife of the millionaire sportsman (inset), and her five-year-old daughter, Nancy, who have become the center of nationwide attention following the report that the former has been granted an interlocutory decree of divorce. Although the greatest secrecy shrouds the case, it is learned that the decree was signed by Supreme Court Justice Selah B. Strong in Town Hall, Huntington, L. I. Mrs. Leeds was formerly Princess Xenia of Russia. Her marriage to the wealthy American was the occasion of international comment.

DRY NET CATCHES MOTHER, CHILD

In Arkansas a mother and her 16-year-old daughter have been sentenced to 15 months under the Jones law for selling liquor to two undercover agents. They are Mrs. Florence Lowey, 49, and her daughter, Mary Grace, 16, both above. Mrs. Lowey is serving her sentence at the women's institution at Alderson, W. Va., and her daughter has been sent to the industrial school for girls at York, Neb. The mother said she sold liquor to feed her three small children and a grandson, at Fort Smith.

Spain's New Premier

General Damaso Berenguer, above, appointed premier of Spain by the king, following the resignation of Primo de Rivera, is like the former, a military man. De Rivera was military dictator for six years and four months although, at the outset, he had proclaimed it a "90 days" government.

Finds She Is Baronet's Daughter

Miss Lucy Harriet Gertrude Fagge, daughter of John Harry Fagge, is now a baronet's daughter. Her father was jack of all trades in and around Pepperell, Mass., until he was informed of his inheritance of the title of baronet through the death of his brother, Sir Charles Fagge. (International Newsreel)

Plans to Aid Men

Miss Hazel Middleton. Although now only a stenographer in a San Francisco law office, Miss Hazel Middleton is studying law. She plans, when she hangs out her shingle, to assist men in the divorce courts and by organizing an alimony payers' protective league so that they may receive more consideration in the divorce courts.

Granted Clemency

Florine Walz Williams, widow of the screen star, Earle Williams, has been granted five years probation at Los Angeles on a plea of guilty to a charge of grand theft growing out of remortgaging her Hollywood home. The judge granted clemency on the ground that her love for Wallace Harvey, an oil promoter, had led her to financial and personal indiscretions.

HOMES TENANTED BY DEAD, FLOOD FLYERS BELIEVE

Uncertainty as to the fate of hundreds of Posey county residents, isolated by southwestern Indiana flood waters, is expressed by relief workers in the area. Aviators flying low over many homes report they find no signs of life in many, where, just a day or two before, they were greeted by hand waving. They believe recession of the streams will reveal many dead in the homes. Photo shows one of the many sleds which are being dispatched from Vincennes, Ind., with provisions. In many instances the sleds have proven the only means of communication with the marooned victims.

OIL BOILER EXPLOSION KILLS TWO

This is what happens when oil field boilers blow up. Two of them exploded near Konawa, Okla., killing two men and injuring four others. The 85-foot steel derrick was torn out of its concrete foundation and dropped 100 feet away on a residence. The house was demolished and the lone occupant was injured critically.

FARM RELIEF IN A PRACTICAL WAY

August Hecksher, New York philanthropist, upper left, is bringing farm relief to a stricken section of North Carolina (shown on map) in a new and comprehensive manner. He has bought 50,000 acres in the Lake Mattamussett region of Hyde county for a few dollars an acre and has employed Thomas D. Campbell, lower right, "world's biggest farmer," to develop the tract with large scale industrial farming methods Campbell uses on 75,000 acres of Montana land.

Grange Masters Of Two Counties Meet

Masters And Lecturers In Session At New Wilmington

OTHER NEWS NOTES OF COLLEGE TOWN

(Special to The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Feb. 5.—A joint meeting of the grange masters and lecturers of Mercer and Lawrence counties was held in the parlors of the Methodist church in New Wilmington on Tuesday.

A discussion of the work for the coming year was held and the State Lecturer, H. G. Elsman was present and explained the work to those present.

About seventy-five attended the meeting.

Illness prevented Prof. Gordon of State College being present, who was to lecture on rural sociology. The need of juvenile granges was stressed and an enlightening talk by E. B. Dorset, Master of Pennsylvania State Grange was the feature of the two meetings of the day.

NEW WILMINGTON NOTES
On Friday evening, February 7, Dr. McLaughry's Bible class will hold a social meeting in the parlors of the United Presbyterian church.

Last Sabbath, February 2, was the tenth anniversary of Rev. J. Ralph Neale as pastor of the United Presbyterian church. Grateful acknowledgement is hereby made for the excellent service he has given to the church and congregation.

The New Wilmington Rural Ministers Association will hold its regular meeting in the Presbyterian church parlors on Thursday, February 6, at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting will take the form of a round table discussion on the devotional life of the minister and will be led by Dr. Love of the Bible Dept., of Westminster College who will speak on the subject, "Joy of the Christian Religion."

The regular Sunday services in the Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday, February 9, at 7:30 p. m., Dr. C. G. Farr, will be present and speak. Dr. Farr is the district superintendent of the New Castle District.

The Womens Foreign Missionary Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Cox on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Rev. J. Ralph Neale of the United Presbyterian church will deliver the second of a series of talks to the Y. M. C. A. of the college Wednesday evening, February 5. He will discuss the religious movement of the boys of continental Europe.

The New Wilmington Boosters Association will start a campaign this evening in interest of the new fire department which has been organized.

A Leroy Wible is attending Federal Court in Pittsburgh this week.

Collins Greer who visited his mother over last week-end has returned to his work in Jeannette where he is employed by the Pennsylvania Rubber Works.

Miss Cora V. Fuller is slowly recovering from her illness at the home of her sister, Mrs. Alice Jaxthelmer.

James S. Stewart has been taken to his son's home in Sharon where he is recovering from his recent illness.

Albert L. Skillian of the Post of the American Legion here will go to Grove City to speak in behalf of the National Commanders Banquet that is to be held at the Cathedral in New Castle on March 4.

The Mens Bible class of the Presbyterian church entertained the ladies at an informal Oyster supper last evening. Speeches and amusements were the program of the evening and a good time was enjoyed by all.

The New Wilmington Rotary Club held their regular meeting in the Methodist church Monday evening. A new member, W. R. Anderson was admitted to the order. Several guests were present, Frank Burton, president of the New Castle Rotary club, Mr. and Mrs. James Porter and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Cloak and daughter, all of Ellwood City.

The New Wilmington Rotary club is already making plans for their annual Buckwheat-cake dinner to be held, February 24, at the M. E. church.

YOUR INCOME TAX

No. 9.

Two of the terms used in the income tax law, namely, "gross income" and "net income," should be noted particularly, inasmuch as they are vitally important to the whole subject of the income tax.

All income derived from any source whatever, unless exempt from tax by law, should be included in gross income. The gross income of the usual merchandizing or mercantile business consists of the total sales, less the cost of goods sold, plus any income from investments and incidental or outside operations or sources. Subtractions should not be made for selling expenses, depreciation losses, or other items not ordinarily used in computing the cost of goods sold.

For example, if the gross sales were $50,000, the cost of goods sold $35,000, the business expenses, etc., $12,000, the statutory gross income is $15,000 and the net income is $3,000. In this case, if the taxpayer was married and living with his wife, he would be required to file a return, although his net income is only $3,000. The return must show the gross sales, purchases, and cost of goods sold. To reflect income correctly, inventories are necessary at the beginning and end of each taxable year.

A lawyer, doctor, architect, author, clergyman, or other professional man must include in gross income all fees, salaries and compensation for professional services.

The revenue act provides that certain items shall be excluded from gross income tax. Among such items are proceeds from life-insurance policies, gifts, bequests and devises, interest from municipal bonds, etc., damages recovered from personal injuries or sickness, World war compensation payments, pensions for the services of the beneficiary or another, interest or dividends of not over $300 from a building and loan association, and rental value of a gospel minister's dwelling. Other items to be excluded from gross income are alimony, notary fees, city jury fees, salary credited to an employee but not actually or constructively received by him, or an insurance policy covering the death of a business partner.

Grant Withers To Fight For Bride

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 5.—Grant Withers, film player, Tuesday prepared to fight the annulment proceedings filed by his bride's mother, following his elopement with Loretta Young, 17-year-old actress, to Arizona, where they were married.

The mother, Mrs. Gladys Belzer, wished the marriage annulled because her daughter was not of age. Withers filed a demurrer, claiming that his marriage in Arizona, under the law, was not subject to annulment proceedings. While Arizona statutes say that parental consent is necessary for a girl under eighteen, they do not provide that the marriage of a girl over fifteen but under the age limit is void or voidable.

Burns Fatal To Pittsburgh Woman

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—Mrs. Sarah Hoffman, 25, died in Homeopathic hospital here Tuesday from burns she received Monday when her clothing caught fire as she worked in the kitchen of her home.

To save her children, Harry, 3 and Eugene, 2, from the flames she tore made in the name, it appearing as Jarvis instead of Jarvis.

JARVIS GETS DIVORCE
Joseph Jarvis has been granted a divorce from his wife, Lulu Jarvis on the grounds of desertion. In an item published yesterday an error was made in the name, it appearing as Jarvis instead of Jarvis.

A BRAND-NEW ANTI-KNOCK GAS-400° END POINT

NO EXTRA COST

GULF

GASOLINE

MADE BETTER

THAT GOOD GULF GASOLINE is now Anti-Knock quality — 400° F. end point — at no extra cost. This Anti-Knock quality stops the knocks in the new high compression motors and greatly improves motor efficiency.

The 400° F. End Point gives instant and complete vaporization to the last drop — many motorists may not know what 400° F. End Point means but every motorist can tell the difference in his car between the new Good Gulf Gasoline and the ordinary gasoline with 437° F. End Point.

Ordinary motor gasoline may be loaded with Anti-Knock Chemicals, but the heavy non-burning ends remains to retard engine performance...

This combination of high anti-knock properties and volatility (the 400° F. End Point) makes the new Good Gulf Gasoline the equal of many premium gasolines and far superior to all non-premium fuels. There is but one better gas—GULF NO-NOX MOTOR FUEL AVIATION GRADE (374° F. End Point.)

Remember there is no extra cost for this new Good Gulf Gasoline.

St. David's Day To Be Celebrated

Welsh Preparing For Annual Observance—Plan For Fine Program.

OTHER NEWS NOTES GIVEN BY BRYTHON

By WILLIAM A. JOHN'S BRYTHON

Plans for the St. David's day celebration will be presented at the meeting of Star of Wales Lodge No. 60, True Iovites of America to be held next Saturday evening in the Emmanuel Baptist church.

There will also be the matter of electing a delegate to the annual convention which will be held this year at Poultney, Vermont. Evans Hopkins, president of the lodge will attend the convention as vice-president of the National Organization.

The celebration of St. David's Day this year promises to be one of real importance and Martha and Star of Wales lodges of the True Iovites of America are co-operating in the affair. Many of the details will be presented at the meeting Saturday evening.

CLEVELAND MAN DIES

Word has been received here of the death of Edwin S. Griffiths of Cleveland O., at his winter home in Florida. His body was brought back to Cleveland for burial. The Welsh people of this country have lost a good friend in the death of Mr. Griffiths. He was a liberal supporter of the Welsh Home for Aged Persons in Cleveland. He also made it possible, financially for the Male Party of Cleveland to go to Swansea, Wales and win the National Elsteddod at that place. He was well known here, coming here many times to act as adjudicator. He was a self made man, who had made a great success in life.

VISIT IN CITY

Miss Margaret Guyer of the Druid office in Pittsburgh, and her friends Mabel Thomas and Jane Davies of Pittsburgh, have returned home after visiting the Misses Mary and Elizabeth Harvard, also Miss Martha Owens and Brother John W. Owens of Winter avenue.

ATTENDS CONVENTION

Rev. Rhys T. Williams, pastor of the First Congregational church, has returned from Pittsburgh, where he attended the convention of the Congregational churches of Pennsylvania. While there, he visited his friends, R. H. Davies, editor of the Druid.

WILL MOVE

We are very sorry to learn that Rev. S. T. Jenkins, pastor of the Congregational church of Martins Ferry, O., is leaving that place to become pastor of the Congregational church at Scranton. Rev. Jenkins has been a very successful pastor in Martin's Ferry, having been there sixteen years. He has also filled the position of secretary of the Welsh Congregational Association of Ohio and Pennsylvania. He has been heard many times in the pulpit of the First Congregational church of this city and he was a welcome visitor here at all times.

PREPARE FOR TRIP

Great preparations are being made by the steamship lines to carry the Welsh Pilgrims that are planning to return to Wales in time for the National Elsteddod, which will be held at Llanelly. It will be held in August.

Gas Main Work At Moravia Stop Near Completion

Will Be First Time Service Has Been Provided Residents
In District

Moravia Stop residents and others living in the immediate vicinity will be supplied with gas service shortly since the new gas main being laid by workmen of the Ellwood City plant of the Manufacturers Light & Heat company will be completed within a few days.

According to officials of the company here, the main is being constructed to serve the numerous homes along the Ellwood road from Ellwood City north. The line runs out of Hazel Dell.

This Might Work— In Some Families

CHICAGO, Ill., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Nellie Maloney, seeking a divorce, told Judge Lewis her husband quarreled constantly. John Maloney said the same thing about her. The court held that it takes two to make a quarrel, and offered a plan.

Let each have the floor on alternate days, giving the extra day of the week to Mrs. Maloney in deference to the custom of the woman's saving the last word.

Maloney had all day yesterday to speak his piece. Mrs. Maloney was bound by the arrangement quietly to listen. It was the opportunity of a lifetime for Maloney to get over a lot of ideas concerning woman's place in the home.

But at the stroke of 12 Mrs. Maloney's day began, and she had the right for 24 hours without a break and without the husband having a chance to backfire.

The outcome of the case was being awaited with interest.

Farmer's Piggie Is Swiped By Bird

ASHTABULA, O., Feb. 5.—The hardy pioneers of Pierpont, southeast of here, who had to contend with bears and wolves, had nothing on modern farmers in that section in the matter of having live stock carried away.

H. P. S. Martin heard a four-month-old pig, kept in an open pen near the house, squealing. Running to the pen, he arrived in time to see a large bird swoop down, sink its talons into the pig's back and fly away with the struggling porker.

Martin ran into the house, got a gun and fired at the bird, but it was beyond range. He said it had a wingspread of about seven feet and looked like an eagle.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon. The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

O God, infinite and eternal in Thy being, Thy mercy we accept without defense. Thou dost care for the need of the childhood of the world; it transcends all earthliness; Thou art Lord of all and yet servant of all. Let Thy truth run through the arteries of our moral natures, that it may clothe us with the spirit of the conqueror. In the great, kindly qualities of the soul may we not fail but arouse and stir them, and crown us as the servants of God. O Thou, who hast borne all burdens, bear with our sin and helplessness, and be a strength to the faint and a joy to the weary. May we never barter away noble character, peace of soul, and immortal joy for anything in all this world. Amen.

LOCAL WOMAN IS GIVEN HEARING

Settles Cases Preferred By Sherron Merchants On Worthless Check Charges

SHARRON, Pa., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Ruth Douglas, 33, of New Castle, formerly of Sharron, was arraigned before a local alderman Tuesday on four charges of giving worthless checks and one charge of obtaining goods under false pretense. All the cases were settled upon her payment of the amounts involved and the costs of the actions.

Worthless check charges were preferred as follows: By the Warren Oil and Gas Company, Warren, O., $5; by the Shenango Stationery Shoppe, $10; by the H. J. Mehl store, $32.50; and by Mike Chieffo, proprietor of the Cozy beauty parlor, $21.80. The latter charge was preferred before Alderman W. C. Applegate and the others before Alderman Henry G. Thomas.

The Minette Hat Shoppe, East State street, preferred a charge of obtaining goods under false pretense before Alderman Thomas. The goods involved were a dress, valued at $10, and beads, valued at $2.

Mrs. Douglas was taken into custody at her home in New Castle last evening by Special County Officer Robert Maxwell.

Stoneboro Man Is Fire Victim

STONEBORO, Pa., Feb. 5.—John B. Page, aged 78, died Tuesday morning at his home from the effects of a fire which occurred in his home, last Friday morning.

Mr. Page was overcome by smoke and was rescued by Henry Bomgardner, a neighbor, who was summoned by Mrs. Page. Mrs. Page was awakened and before she could arouse her husband, was forced to flee from the house.

Mr. Page was widely known in this district. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge. Surviving are his widow and two sons.

Loses Artificial Nose In Accident

SUPERIOR, Wis., Feb. 5.—Although Mike Offstead is in a hospital today minus his nose as the result of an automobile accident, he isn't particularly discouraged as all he needs to do is order another. Offstead's nose was artificial, made of a plaster preparation. An automobile sideswiped him here. He was not seriously injured.

Prize Winner

"Hazel May suffered from constipation," says Mrs. M. Hopkins, 7050 Ruskin Lane, Philadelphia. "She was sallow and bilious; didn't have any appetite; couldn't digest her food."

"California Fig Syrup has changed all that. It regulated her bowels quickly; improved her appetite and digestion. She has improved right along until friends say she's a regular prize-winner for health."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. Physicians endorse it. Its rich, fruity flavor appeals to children; its pure vegetable goodness is safe for any child. The prompt relief it brings bilious, head-achy, constipated children lasts; because it helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach. Next time bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness warn of constipation, try it with your child and see how it helps! When buying, look for the name California! That marks the genuine, famous for 50 years.

The Story Of The Boxer Rebellion
The Relief Of The Legations

IN THE AFTERNOON OF AUGUST 14, 1900, THE TROOPS OF THE INTERNATIONAL RELIEF EXPEDITION FOUGHT THEIR WAY THROUGH THE STREETS OF PEKING TO THE RESCUE OF THE FOREIGNERS BEIEGED IN THE LEGATIONS BY THE BOXERS

THEIR ARRIVAL WAS HAILED WITH FRANTIC JOY BY THE PLUCKY DEFENDERS. HELP HAD REACHED THEM JUST IN TIME, FOR THEIR SUPPLY OF FOOD AND AMMUNITION WAS NEARLY EXHAUSTED

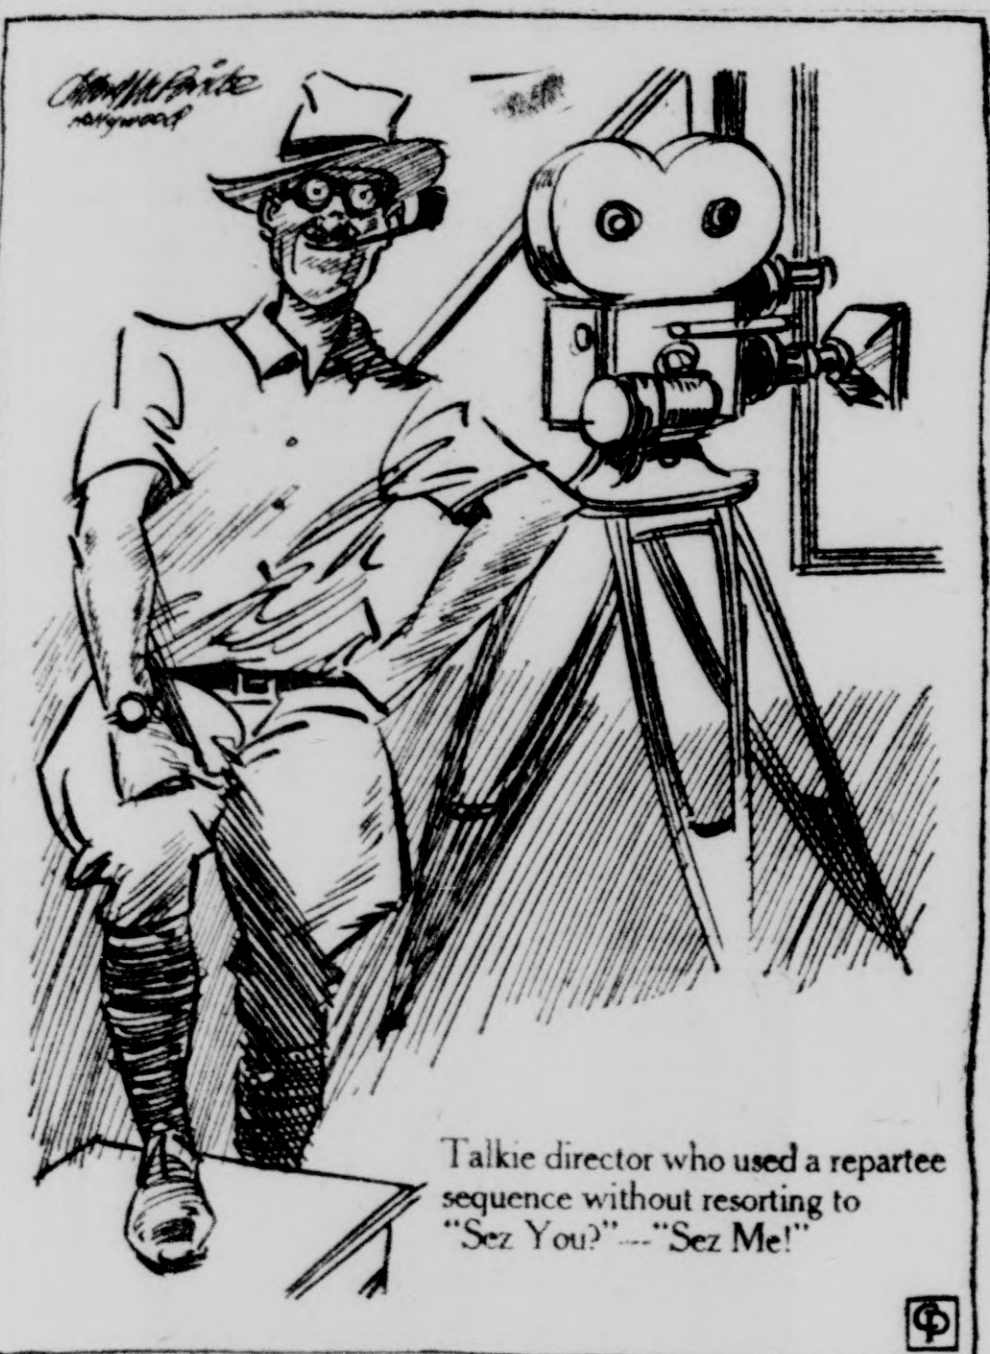

OF THE LITTLE BAND OF DEFENDERS, WHICH HAD NEVER MUSTERED MORE THAN 500, 65 HAD BEEN KILLED AND 131 WOUNDED, AND THE TWO MONTHS' SIEGE HAD BROUGHT THE SURVIVORS TO THE LIMIT OF HUMAN ENDURANCE.

WHEN THE RESCUING FORCE ENTERED PEKING, THE CITY PRESENTED A SCENE OF RUIN AND DESOLATION. THE WEALTHIEST QUARTER OF THE CAPITAL WAS IN ASHES. BESIDE THE WHOLESALE DESTRUCTION OF FOREIGN PROPERTY, MANY CHINESE PALACES AND RESIDENCES HAD BEEN BURNED.

TOMORROW—FOREIGN OCCUPATION OF PEKING.

NEW CASTLE DEFEATS WASHINGTON 39-25

Rowe, Alexander Shine In Eleventh Victory

Game Proves To Be Fast And One Of Best At Senior High This Season

Loucks And Shaw Prove Outstanding Stars For Washington Team

By CHARLES LANDOLF

One of the best games played at the senior high school gym this year was enacted on Tuesday night before close to 900 fans. The "rip-tearing" undefeated New Castle high school basketball quintet broke the Washington list of victories by a 39-25 score.

Previous to this Washington had topped six teams in a row. Arthur Rowe with his gusto of shooting found the net five times, and "Arthur the Great" Alexander, who caged five goals, proved the outstanding stars of the contest for the local section three leaders of the W. P. I. A. L. Regis McAuley played a good defensive game for the red and black clad boys.

The game proved very fast and exciting. In the fourth quarter the Coach Hank Day machine frightened the local fans when they cut a 10-point lead down to five points. The score favored New Castle 31-21. Loucks made good two fouls and a field goal. Shaw came through with another foul. The score now favored New Castle 31-25. New Castle called time out. Jimmy Shaffer, playing his first game for New Castle, who had substituted for Hannon, came through with a field goal. Rowe retaliated with two goals in rapid order to give New Castle a good lead as the game was nearing an end. Nickie Uram caged his second field goal of the game as the final whistle blew ending the fast encounter. The final count stood Washington trailing 39-25.

Half Favors Local 29-11. New Castle took a six-point lead in the first quarter. In this stanza Rowe, Wario, Alexander and McAuley found the hoop for goals. The first quarter ended with New Castle on top 11-5. The second quarter was fast with New Castle leading by nine points as the whistle blew. Alexander, Rowe and Graff all found the basket for goals. Arthur Alexander registered two goals in this period. The best blue and white passers from Washington could do was score six points. Loucks and Graff were responsible for the markers made by the visitors. The half ended with New Castle on top 20-11.

New Castle at the start of the third quarter missed numerous shots at the hoop. Washington started the scoring by caging two goals in succession to cut the red and black lead down to five points. Mr. Loucks and Murphy made two good shots from the center of the court as New Castle led 20-15. As soon as Washington was finished New Castle started. Hannon gave the locals a seven-point lead by caging two fouls. Rowe followed with a pretty one-hand shot. Alexander and Hannon followed suit. Shaw was responsible for another field goal for the visitors. The third quarter ended with Coach Bridenbaugh's undefeated passers on top 28-17.

Washington was putting every bit of effort in the final quarter in hope of overcoming the Lawrence county boys. Shaw cut the lead down to seven points when he made two fouls and a field goal. Uram made good a foul try. A minute later Alexander came through with his fifth bucket of the game. Loucks again found the hoops for a field goal and a foul. After this it was all New Castle with Shaffer with one field goal, Rowe with two more and Uram with one bucket giving New Castle its 39 points. Murphy caged a foul to make it an even 25 for his team. The score favored New Castle 39-25 as the last quarter whistle blew.

Shenango Sophs Are Trimmed By Midgets

Shenango high school's sophomores lost to the Carnegie Midgets in a game contested in the Carnegie auditorium last night. The final tally registered a 37-14 defeat against them. The sophomores were outclassed in every way. Captain Vigali of the Midgets featured with seven baskets to his own credit. Sheldone and Gallagher also played well. For the sophomores Laitinen and Delanzo played best.

Polish Falcons Top West Pittsburg In Battle On Tuesday

Falcon Midgets Beat Central Christians Midgets 20-13; Juniors Beat Lawrence Five

The recently organized Polish Falcon basketball team hung a 39 to 19 defeat on the West Pittsburg Billiards in the Falcon hall, on Tuesday night. The Falcons played an impressive brand of basketball to take the victory.

In the preliminary games the Falcon Midgets beat the Central Christians Midgets 20 to 13, and the Falcons Juniors upset the Lawrence Five 48 to 22. Both of the prelin games were good.

The Polish Falcon big team held a lead of 11 to 6 at the end of the first half. Both teams had difficulty in locating the basket with any degree of effectiveness. In the second half the Polish boys drew steadily away from the visitors piling up seventeen points with A. Mehalec, J. Mehalec and Pzeny leading the parade. M. Kwiat and A. Mehalec were the big shots in the first half. For the West Pittsburg team the work of Beres and R. Elieser featured.

The Falcons would like to book a few strong teams. For games call Felix Zuchowski at 213-M or write to Mr. Zuchowski at 1214 Cascade street.

The summary: Polish Falcons—39 West Pittsburg—19 A. Mehalec, J. Mehalec, Pzeny, M. Kwiat, Johnson, A. Pzeny, A. Kwiat, Onicka, Quinn, Brakovich, Field goals: A. Mehalec 5, Kolodziej 2, Cegielka, Zuchowski, J. Mehalec 2, Ludwick, Frankovich, M. Kwiat 3, Pzeny 2, R. Elieser, Cochran, J. Elieser, Beres 3. Fouls—Falcons, 3 out of 7. West Pittsburg, 7 out of 11. Referee—Gonda.

Subs—Ludwick, Frankovich, M. Kwiat, Johnson, A. Pzeny, A. Kwiat, Onicka, Quinn, Brakovich, Field goals: A. Mehalec 5, Kolodziej 2, Cegielka, Zuchowski, J. Mehalec 2, Ludwick, Frankovich, M. ## PRITICISMS

BY WILLIAM MITT

It took the Illinois boxing commission 11 days to decide Leo Lomski defeated Jimmy Braddock. The announcement was made after most persons had forgotten all about the bout.

This brand new idea in deciding boxing bouts sets a new world's record for long count.

Just why it should take 11 days to add a point score is a mystery unless the battlers fought it out with machine guns.

If this new business of checking up and changing the winner becomes general a lot of champs may wake up some morning and find themselves contenders.

It begins to look as though the Chicago Cubs could sue for a return of the runs scored during a certain eighth inning in Philadelphia last fall.

Imagine picking up your favorite sport sheet tomorrow and reading that Notre Dame last fall didn't win a game!

And what about Babe Ruth. Could all those homers of his, when unmasked, turn out to be two-baggers?

Cutler Loses To Merritt At New York

Rioux Is Fined $1,000 For His Chicago Farce

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—Elzeaz Rioux, Montreal Giant, was fined $1000 and suspended indefinitely for his 47 second performance against Primo Carnera here last Friday night, the Illinois Athletic commission announced today after investigating the fight.

The commissioners voted to clear Carnera, the Venetian behemoth, and said Mr. Rioux, "the night consider, award him his prize money, $15,531.91, which was held up pending the outcome of the official investigation.

Primo Carnera Will Battle Cowboy Billy In Newark Thursday

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

International News Service Sports Editor NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Having persuaded the Illinois authorities that they had wronged him deeply, Primo Carnera, the fe-fi-to-fum man who won both of his American fights in a punch—it may even be that it was the same punch—will go right on with his fungo hitting tomorrow night, with a gent by the name of Cowboy Billy Owens as the fungo, fungae or fungus. The event is scheduled for the Newark armory and it ought to be a gripping encounter.

Realizing its importance, the authorities should leave no stone unturned or something. Only expert timers, vouched for by the A. A. U., should be at the ringside and, if the American record is broken, the fact should be announced in a very firm voice, so that the spectators can compare it with their programs and cheer wildly. The spectators are entitled to this contest. If they don't see a prize fight, they ought to be allowed to hear one.

Quick Knockouts. They are also entitled to protection against error and so I protest against the use of the ten-second watch. There is some question as to its absolute accuracy and the International Athletic Federation kept throwing these records out as fast as the watch can make them. This is very discouraging, all they throw out are the records.

Anyhow, if the watch can't be depended upon for "catch" a sprinter in the act of crossing the line, I fear it cannot cope successfully with a boxer on his way to the floor and this is very important. Primo established his first American record when big boy Peterson withdrew in 70 seconds. His second was made in Chicago a few nights ago when Elzeaz Rioux prostrated himself in 47 seconds.

This makes Primo's total fighting time in America 1 minute and 57 seconds, which used to be pretty fair time for the half mile, and if we are going to make a contest of it on this basis, we want to get it right. I am assured, too, that it is the only basis upon which a contest with Cowboy Billy is possible, certain pugilistic gentleness having begun to blow the whistle very shrilly on the cowboy. They say he has a record that only a mother could love.

Cowboy Not So Good. It is supposed to include, among other things, five fights with Godfrey and five knockouts, none of which happened to Godfrey. They also declare that he went ten rounds with Elzeaz Rioux himself, which furnishes criticism for both parties automatically.

Anyway, Cowboy Billy is not supposed to be any better than Big Boy or Elzeaz, and much as I hate to say anything unkind about a prize fighter, I feel that I have grounds for suspecting that the man who is no better than this pair isn't really good. So the maddened thousands doubtless will see another split-second finish tomorrow night, for the life of me, I can't see why I should worry about it, except that Primo still has 63 seconds to go before completing a full round since arriving in America. After he does that, he probably will be all tired out and have to go away somewhere for a good, long rest.

Would Give Babe $2,000 To Coach

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A man can't be too "choosy" when he's out of work. With that thought in mind A. J. Mirski, operator of a boys' camp at Turn Lake, said today he would pay Babe Ruth $2,000 a month for two months to act as coach in baseball at the camp.

Ruth wants $25,000 for a summer's work with the New York Yankees, but said Mr. Mirski, "the night consider, my offer, being as how the Yankees owners haven't said anything about meeting his demand."

"Hack" Wilson Is Under Contract

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Lewis "Hack" Wilson, hard-hitting center fielder, has been signed up for 1930 by the Chicago cubs, it was announced Tuesday.

William Veck, president of the Chicago National League baseball club, declined to reveal the money figures in the contract.

Wilson came up from his home in West Virginia to meet Veck and close the business.

Kandy Kids Top West Pittsburg

Wampum Kandy Kids Smack West Pittsburg Team For 28 To 12 Score

In a very fast and interesting game played on the Wampum Opera House floor, West Pittsburg was trounced by the Kandy Kids "5" of Wampum by a 28 to 12 score. The West Pittsburg aggregation deserves a lot of credit for the fight they put up for this game as it was no walk-away as the score indicates. Shortly after the game got under way, White sank two pretty shots from under the hoop and Boone followed with one shortly afterwards. The defense of the West Pittsburg "5" tightened up and the "Kids" were held scoreless the remainder of this quarter while the visitors counted 3 points.

West Pittsburg going in the second period with the score 6 to 3 in favor of Wampum, staged a great comeback and out-scored the locals 6 to 4 and were on the short end of a 10 to 9 score as the half ended. The Kids had to be satisfied with one field goal and two fouls during this period and were only hanging on by a hair.

A good talking to by Manager Sturgeon and the appearance of Coach Patterson shortly after the third period got under way, must have pepped up the Kids as they were on the long end of a 20 to 11 score as the third period was ended. Going in the last period, the Kids kept up their good work and dropped in 3 buckets and two free tosses while the best visitors could do in this period was register a lone free toss.

The West Pittsburg team during this year and things looked pretty dark for the Wampum team during the first half. Cochran and Beres played a great game for the visitors while the best looking pair on the Wampum "5" was Ferrucci and McKim.

Kandy Kids. W. Pittsburg. Boone 1 out of 1. White 1 out of 1. Demark 1 out of 1. Ferrucci 0 out of 1. Roberts 0 out of 2. McKim 2 out of 3. Billiards: Anderson 1 out of 1. Onick 0 out of 1. Cochran 1 out of 3. Referee—J. Blythe. Score Keeper—Galbreath. Time-keeper—Ferrucci.

Amateur Floor Notes

The Young Buccaneers downed the Carnegie Midgets at the Carnegie Auditorium, on Monday night, by a score of 23 to 22. This is the first time of the year the Carnegie boys have been beaten. The playing of Whitman, Ross, and Deep featured for the winners, with the work of Vaglie, Sheldone and Gallagher played well for the losers.

The Vagabonds took a game from the Troop Four of the Seventh Ward, on Monday night. The final score was 16 to 12. It was a well played game, and Patton and Kulich sank the ball for the winning points. The game was very clean, no fouls being called.

Any teams desiring to book the Vagabonds for a floor game will be accommodated if they call 4234-M and ask for Decker, or 892-J and ask for Bill.

The Neighborhood Midgets downed the Sacred Hearts, 22 to 16, in a game played at the Carnegie auditorium. The stars of the game were: F. Cavelli, Habbib, Augustine and Bobbino.

Tri-State Conference Race Is Interesting

STARS OF YESTERDAY

BY AL WINFIELD

What world series saw the best pitching staff pitted against each other?

There's a subject stove league fans have wrangled over for years. Every-one seems to have a favorite series in this respect. I'll take 1905 for mine. The Giants went into that series with a baseball world howling the praises of a mighty McGrawin tro-Big Six Mathewson, from Man McGinnity and Leon Ames.

National league fans thought the series would be a walkaway. However, as so often happens, they did not reckon with three sterling moundmen offered by the enemy, Mr. Connie Mack. These were Eddie Plank, Chief Bender and Andy Coakley.

The Giants won the series four games to one, but that does not begin to tell what a battle it was. All but one of the five games was a brilliantly pitched shutout, a terrific struggle between master moundmen and the margin of victory and defeat was a hairline in each instance.

Mathewson whipped Plank in the first game, 3-0, but only after a grueling battle. Bender beat McGinnity by the same score in the second game. Coakley was weak in the third game and was beaten 9-0, but allowed only seven hits. Mathewson gave a masterful performance throughout.

The fourth game was the prize. Each team garnered five hits off the sizzling slants of McGinnity and Plank, the Giants barely shoving one run over for the victory.

Mathewson ended Athletic hopes in the final, but not until after Bender had given him the battle of his life for a thrilling 2-0 decision.

Risko-Campolo Get Semi-Final Spot In Big Miami Contest

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Johnny Risko, Canadian baker boy, and Vittorio Campolo, Italian heavyweight, were considered horseshoe holders today among the big boys, having been awarded the semi-windup spot of the Sharkey-Scott card at Miami February 27. After a mad scramble in which Young Stribling of Georgia and other stars bid for the honor, Madison Square Garden officials announced sections of Risko and the Italian.

They will box ten rounds and Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight title holder, and the sturdy Belgian, Pierre Charles, will entertain in another Ten-canto number.

Still another ten rounder of the Miami card will bring together Jimmy Maloney, the Boston fat boy and Moose Bonheur of France. The latter once actually stayed ten rounds with the venetian lagoon, Primo Carnera.

There will be 51 rounds in all it was announced.

Lawrence County League Folks To Dine On Thursday

The Lawrence County baseball league folks are all on a diet today. Tomorrow night they will go to Hillsville to punish a lot of chicken on the half-wing etc. The smoker-dinner for the baseball boys will start at 7 o'clock, it was announced today.

A great program has been arranged as the second part of the evening, with a flock of entertainers and other interesting forms of amusement. The affair is being held in the new high school building at Hillsville.

The P. R. R. orchestra will furnish the music for the dinner. It is a little get together party and the start of another baseball campaign and it is hoped that a great many of the baseball players of the county will see fit to attend. The committee in charge of the dinner is Nick Navarre and Patsy Colucci, a couple of energetic Hillsville boosters.

Westminster And Duquesne Hold Top Rung; Geneva And Thiel Are Beaten

Geneva Has Hopes Of Stopping Titans Friday; Bisons Fortunate At Greenville

By "BUGS"

It begins to look like this Westminster-Duquesne pair of games, one at New Wilmington and the one down at Pittsburgh, may decide the championship in the tri-state district. Right now the Titans and the Dukes are out in front of the parade of the spheroid tossers and are sporting four victories and but one defeat. Peculiar it is that Bethany is the team that has dragged the two top notchers down to defeat. On the Bethany floor the Bisons look very good, but away from home, you know, not so warm.

Dukes Beat Geneva. The Duquesne team last night in that New Brighton gym, upset the aspirations of Geneva along title lines by a score of 26 to 23. The game was a humdinger from all accounts, with the Dukes barely managing by the fine work of "Ganzzy" Benedict and Joe Vernon to outlast the Loeffler coached team.

Up at Greenville the Thiel boys were on the verge of winning their first tri-state floor battle, but Rust rushed to the aid of a faltering Bison team and Bethany rode out of the Mercer county town on the wings of a 43 to 42 count. Not so much to crow about. Punny about that Thiel team. Against the good boys they look very good, all but Westminster, and the Titans hold some kind of a jinx over the Lutherans, but it's just one of those things. Maybe Thiel will beat the Titans in basketball some day.

Geneva-Titans Friday. This Westminster-Geneva fuss at New Brighton on Friday night looks like the payoff for this week. If the Lawtimmers can take the measure of the Loeffler boys then all will be subrosa with the blue and white clad warriors. Westminster must keep on winning games, and even when they hit the Dukes at New Wilmington on the 25th of this month, they must keep pace. It looks as if the Titans will have to take the Dukes twice this year to cool the bunting.

As said before when you want to see good basketball games try the tri-state conference for diversion. You are bound to get your money's worth and if you like exciting finishes just keep your eye peeled for some of the better teams in the section, and if you are not satisfied there is always the alternative of asking for your change back again. It's never been done, but there is always a "first".

Grovers Beat Jackets. In another sectional battle last night the Grove City college boys handed Waynesburg a piece of their mind to the tune of 46 to 34. Too bad that the Grovers cannot play ball in tri-state society and make it a bigger and better league. The same holds true for Allegheny. The Metho-dists have a good team this year and would make the league interesting. Now that the Dukes have gone and got snooty about their athletic endeavors, why not invite the Grove City and Allegheny boys to sit in?

If you are interested in the standing of the Tri-State conference up to the last 20 seconds of play, just scan the following and draw your own conclusion if you care to. Write your own ticket.

Westminster	4	1	800
Duquesne	4	1	800
Bethany	4	2	666
Geneva	3	2	500
Waynesburg	0	3	000
Thiel	0	5	000

Canzoneri Is Given Rest By Commission

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Tony Canzoneri, former featherweight champion of the world, began a campaign today for reinstatement by the New York Athletic Commission, which set him down for failure to box Steve Smith at Wilkes Barre, Penna.

Yale Okum and Stanislaus Loayza were also told to take rests. Okum was suspended at the behest of Pennsylvania authorities and Loayza weighed in a couple of pound over when he fought Al Singer here recently.

The commissioners took no notice of a challenge of Dave Shade of California to meet Mickey Walker, mid-dleweight champion, in a title bout.

KID TO GET FEATHER TITLE TILT?

BAT BATTALINO

KID CHOCOLATE

Efforts to arrange a bout between Bat Battalino, world's featherweight champion, and Kid Chocolate, colored Cuban whirlwind, seem near reward with announcement that tentative arrangements have been made for a bout between the two in New York in March.

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 5.—The Order of Eastern Star sponsored two benefit bridge parties Tuesday. Both the afternoon and evening parties were well attended.

The affairs took place in the Masonic building and Mrs. E. B. Baker and her committee were in charge.

Those winning score honors in the afternoon were: Mrs. H. E. Farber, Mrs. and Mrs. Audrey Cunningham. In the evening, Mrs. R. J. Wilson and Mrs. Howard Jones.

Assisting Mrs. Baker were officers and Mesdames Myron Gelbach, Fred Swanson and H. E. Wilson.

In two weeks Mrs. Frank Moltrop of Beaver Falls will entertain.

Rotarians Plan Classification Meeting Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 5.—The classification committee, headed by J. A. Gelbach, will have charge of the regular weekly dinner-meeting of the Rotary club Thursday night in the dining room of the Presbyterian church.

There were so many special features that it is impossible to mention them all in headlines. Mrs. Catherine Charles, librarian, contributed a delightful talk on "Antiques and Early American Glass." A sample of an antique bottle was brought to the collection of antiques at the meeting.

There were two small devotees of the art of terpsichore. In their demure pink gingham dancing frocks they accompanied Mrs. Silverblatt at the piano, a charming contrast to the collection of antiques at the meeting.

One of the features of the business meeting was the little sister act, put on by Marcia Silverblatt and Beverly Groden, two small devotees of the art of terpsichore. In their demure pink gingham dancing frocks they accompanied Mrs. Silverblatt at the piano, a charming contrast to the collection of antiques at the meeting.

Judge Shull Is Likely Choice For Democrats

Monroe County Jurist May Get Democratic Nod For Governorship Race

SEDWICK KISTLER ALSO MENTIONED

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 5.—Division among the ranks of the democrats of the State was seen likely today in the launching of a boom here for the nomination of Judge Samuel E. Shull, well-known Monroe county jurist, for governor. Most of the leaders here had favored the nomination of Sedwick Kistler, national committeeman.

"Democrats cannot afford to put up a ticket selected 'or even suspected of being selected by republican influence,' former state representative Chester R. Rhodes said in opening the campaign for Shull.

Rhodes also hailed from Monroe county and came to Philadelphia to confer with other democratic leaders of the state.

The naming of Shull is imperative for the benefit of the state and the welfare of the democratic party, Rhodes asserted.

Has Many Friends

"His friends throughout the state are urging his candidacy," Rhodes explained. "Northern Pennsylvania is solidly for him. He is the type of candidate present conditions require. He will attract votes, regardless of who his republican opponent might be. The democratic party needs leadership that commands the confidence of the people. Heading the State ticket Shull would create this confidence in the democracy of the state."

Rhodes declared that William B. Wilson, defeated candidate for U. S. Senator in the 1926 campaign, or former district attorney Humes, of Pittsburgh, would make a suitable senatorial running mate for Judge Shull.

Both men have a large following in the northeastern section of the state in addition to their drawing power among the democrats in western Pennsylvania.

A ticket of such men as Shull, Wilson or Humes would have to reckon with the republicans in the general election next November asserted Rhodes.

Ice Harvest On At Conneaut Lake

CONNEAUT LAKE, Pa., Feb. 5.—Ice harvest at Conneaut Lake is well under way with a good crop of seven-inch ice being packed in waiting cars, and by Shontz and Co. in their own icehouses. The harvest, however, will not prove as extensive as other years. After 75 waiting cars are filled, the harvest will stop.

Wind storms have wrecked most of the old ice houses. Several hotels and clubs are harvesting enough for summer use.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Some damp evening when the streets take on that slithering appearance, seven or eight ambulances are going to get a rush call to the corner of East Washington and Butler. The reason for the call will be that one of these cross country busses is going to hit a couple of automobiles at the corner and a very elegant crash is going to be the answer.

The lads who drive them seem to be graduates of an army tank school, the idea being to take all obstacles without stalling the engine. While of course the state motor laws apply to busses as they apply to your old family fliv, it seems difficult to make these bus drivers believe it.

Saw one nearly pile up traffic last night at seven o'clock. One of these extra large busses was coming down Butler avenue. Traffic east and west on East Washington street was heavy. There are no stop signs either way at this intersection which gives everybody a perfect right to have an accident. The bus driver came tearing down Butler, never paused or hesitated for the busy corner and swung into East Washington.

Fortunately the drivers going down the hill got pulled up in time to avoid crashing the bus. Otherwise there would have been another of those all too common "unfortunate bus accidents."

Such driving certainly can't be blamed upon the company. The busses are well built, comfortably fitted and are supposed to be driven within the limits of the law. You can follow most any one of them at 55 out on the open road, and they seem spilling for an argument at street corners. As to who would win an argument in case you decided to try your coupe against one of them, don't be silly.

Saturday is a day of distinction in Princeton. It is the birthday of Mrs. Lucy Morrison, a young lady who will be 102 on February 8, and every one living in the village takes a personal pride in the fact.

Perhaps it is the air out in Princeton, or perhaps it is that Princetonians live right. Whatever it is, the charming woman who has over a century of life back of her is ready to observe another mile stone and is still doing her own cooking and sewing. Spicing the garden is a bit arduous for her, but aside from that she does nicely, thank you.

Out in New Bedford the royal family is preparing for a big night next Wednesday. The folks are tossing a stag banquet in the town hall and King Zedaker sent a fellow all the way in to see that some of us got separated from the price of a ticket. All of which is OK for whenever the New Bedford folks decide to hold a dinner, stand by for a real feed.

Locals To Contest Tarentum Volley Ball Men Tonight

Start Scheduled For 8:15 O'clock —Match Promises To Be Exciting

Volley ball enthusiasts of New Castle will be given a treat a la supreme when the business men's team of the local Young Men's Christian Association tangles with the Tarentum Y's business men's aggregation on the local floor at 8:15 tonight.

Touted for their prowess, the Tarentum men who were runners-up for last year's championship of the central western Pennsylvania district, promise to give the locals plenty of opposition tonight.

In announcing the game, Henry T. MacNicholas, physical director of the local institution stated this is only the first of a short series of engagements with out-of-town teams. The schedule calls for Sewickley to be met on February 19.

The local business men were champions in their section in 1929, having vanquished the very team they will oppose here tonight, in last year's district finals. Several good players were lost this year but the new ones have replaced their predecessors much to the satisfaction of their directors, Lew Harlan and Joe Sulzer.

Sharon Steel Vet On Retired List

L. M. Tittler of Sharon, veteran employee of the Carnegie Steel Co. for the past 30 years, has been placed on the retired list, according to word received by relatives here. Mr. Tittler had been identified with the steel business for 37 years in Sharon, before the Carnegie interests took over the old Sharon Steel plant.

Mr. Tittler is a brother-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Robison of Beckford street.

Woman, Aged 67, Killed By Truck

ZANESVILLE, O., Feb. 5.—Miss Anna O. Hubbell, 67, of this city, was killed under a florist truck driven by Walter Burton here today. The accident happened at the busiest corner in the downtown district. The woman was struck as she stepped from a curb.

Police are investigating the accident but are not holding Burton.

Demand For Steel Is Back To Normal
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—Demand has snapped back to a level in keeping with actual consumption as reflected in the rapid recovery during January. The Iron Age will say tomorrow in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade.

The magazine points out that the extreme caution of buyers in November and December resulted in under-estimation of their requirements after the turn of the year. The general rate of steel ingot production is now 76.7 per cent of capacity, according to a survey conducted by Iron Age.

Orders Increase
"Mill bookings in January, not including unspecified contract tonnage, were much larger than in December," the magazine states, "but fell short of those of the first month of 1930. The gain over December in terms of a weighted average for 18 companies, was 45.5 per cent; the decline from January, 1929, was 12.25 per cent."

However, the gains of last month did not prevent production for January from showing a loss compared with December. The January total was 2,827,646 tons of 91,209 tons a day, compared with 2,836,916 tons or 91,513 tons a day in the previous month—a loss of 1-3 of one per cent.

The magazine states that backlogs of railroad equipment builders have resulted in increased orders being placed, while fabricated steel bookings show a slight decrease. Orders for automotive builders have increased during the past week.

"The Iron Age composite prices," the magazine concludes, "are unchanged, pig iron at $18.17 a ton and finished steel at 23.05 cents a pound."

Bootlegger Takes Witness Stand In Conspiracy Trial
Bootlegger Who Received "Rap" From Judge Berkey Is Court Witness Today
(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 5.—Burgess Wilbur Beachy, of Somerset, Pa., was to resume the stand here today in Federal court at the trial of Judge John A. Berkey and 14 other defendants charged with conspiracy to violate the national liquor laws.

Yesterday Beachy followed James Turnbull, alleged bootlegger on the stand, after Turnbull had testified that Beachy defied the reputed "protection" orders of Judge Berkey and fined Turnbull after a raid on his premises revealed slot machines in operation.

Turnbull testified that Peter Hanlon and William Dittman, whom he identified as two of the defendants in the case here, had placed the machines in his restaurant but failed in their efforts to "fix things up" with Beachy.

Received "Rap"
Under cross-examination Turnbull testified that Judge Berkey had sentenced him to from one to two years in the Allegheny county workhouse when he pleaded guilty before the jury of being a bootlegger.

Claude A. M. Welsh, who had been a deputy prothonotary in Somerset county added to his testimony at yesterday's session that no bootlegging "protection" was extended to any man who refused to operate slot machines in connection with his boot-legging activities.

Welsh's testimony that he had been a police lieutenant to Judge Berkey and that he worked with the jurist in arranging that bootleggers contribute $1 a gallon to the campaign funds for Berkey, lost him his job in the prothonotary's office. He was discharged after his testimony was given.
